Learned Diagnosis from a Cockadoodledoo—The Lament of a Turkey Gobbler—Sauce from a Goose—The Lay of a Hen.

[From the New York Herald.]

FISHKILL, N. Y., Nov. 18, 1872.

The "cock shrill clarion" made itself heard from dunghill and barnyard as I pushed out from Fishkill this morning to hunt up cases of ornicephalyzmosis in Putnam county. I anticipated a more dreadful slaughter of the innocents by the relentless zymosis than I found. I thought I detected in the clarion of the roosters a wild note of heartfelt grief, and I was prepared to witness a picture of fowl and frightful extermination. I expected to see the roadside and the farmyard exhibit at every turn the sad evidence of an all-devouring plague in the shape of countless chickens, turkey gobblers, geese, ducks, drakes, &c., &c., past or passing the last agonies of dissolution. Thanksgiving Day and all its delightful concommitants of chicken fricassee, stuffed goose and boned turkey in the first blush of anticipation lost all its charms and looked through the near vista of time a day of gloom and disappointment. We had been talking in Fishkill of the new plague, "the swell head disease," as a man not inappropriately called it. "It's a trick of the butchers," remarked a purveyor of poultry, whose stock of wild and tame game was somewhat considerable—"a trick of the butchers," he repeated, "got up just in time to help their own business."

SYMPATHIZING POULTRY MERCHANTS

standing around nodded assent to this conclusion, but there was a plain-spoken, awkward man near by who said he "wouldn't tetch fowl no how," and when asked the nature of the reason or the prejudice that had drove him to that determination, he replied he had "seen chickens on Aleck Thompson's farm, at Johnstown, that had jist the same as the horse disease."

The discussion ended in the reckless assertion of a resolution on the part of a majority of the company that they would "jist as lief eat a swell head chicken as any other." A few miles from Fishkill I looked over the fence of a farm belonging to a German named Wehlig, and perceiving a large concourse of fowl holding a meeting in the corner of a former truck garden, I went around and introduced myself. The different members of the extensive group might have been holding a consultation on the dismal prospects of the times, for they were very serious, and the contented "cluck, cluck," of the self-complacent turkeys, ten in number, was hushed in dignified meditation. About two dozen very youthful chickens were huddled together at one side, looking very miserable.

THE DUCK TRIBE

was largely represented; but I noticed they waddled in a most melancholy way in and out, as if life had no further charm for them, and death would be a happy release. Mr. Wehlig, the proprietor of the ornithological collection, appeared to be a little troubled about the symptoms, and when a facetious neighbor, who came up to have a look, observed that the whole thing about the disease was mere poppycock and chicanery, the happy man laughed, as he thought he saw the glimmer of a joke. There were in the collection, but very many drooping ones. Mr. Wehlig ventured a humorous solution of the case by saying he was accustomed to raise a very intelligent breed of fowl, and the specimens to the fore were all perfectly cognizant of the near approach of Thanksgiving and their gizzards had gone down in consequence thereof. What appeared to him as the most satisfactory view of the matter was that whether an epizootic or any other ootic visitation came upon them he could dispose of each fowl at about the usual price per head. I passed several other places where chickens congregated in force, but they appeared to enjoy a sufficient share of health to make them palatable in pot pie or fricassee, even at Delmonico's. At Anderson's farm, near Towner's, the was of the liveliest kind. At times it had a tone of defiance, as if the proud-stepping roosters—a battalion in number—were prepared to fight in behalf of their doomed kindred against the butchers of the mamam ian tribe that come their way in the days of Thanksgiving. The geese were in a high feather. No thought of the dreadful day of reckoning so near at hand appeared to disturb them, or, if it did, they stuffed themselves in anticipation of a plentiful waste of corn and resolved to die game. The chickens alone were despondent. Visions of Fulton street pot pie seemed to float on the wing before their timid and tender fancies, and how natural they should feel but chicken-hearted under the circumstances.

INTERVIEW WITH AN INTELLIGENT PULLET.

With the permission of her aged parent I took one of the most intelligent and amiable of a fine brood of chickens aside for an interview, and inquired if she had heard of the terrible zymosis, and, if so, whether the state of her feelings permitted her to speak calmly of the situation? She replied playfully that there were no rumors in the air about such a thing, but having inherited a good, tough constitution from her ancestors she expected to weather the zymotic storm and be a comfort to her parents in their declining years.

"I hope," said she, with a sanguine and aspiring expression of the left wing, "to graduate next year on eggs and lay the foundation of a happy family and a happy future. I have no servile ambition, like some of my companions have, to cater to the wanton appetite of city people and take a place at the tables of the great. I prefer a rural life and the quiet joys of maternity. My respected father yonder, with the red cockade, who won his spurs on many a hard-fought dunghill, is better acquainted with the nature of the epidemic of which you speak. He has been studying the subject in the family roost every night, and knows it all according to cocker, and you may feel cocksure he will tell you no cock and a bull story."

A TALK WITH COCK-A-DOODLE.

Approaching the head of the family, who had just ceased sounding his shrill clarion, I put the question: "Has your cock-a-doodle highness been properly informed of the irresistible march over hill and valley of the awful ornicephalyzmosis?"

He answered in the affirmative, and, at the same time, like the Spanish warrior in the ballad, bowed his crested head and tamed his fiery gizzard. He looked every inch cock of the walk, and the dignity of his bearing was only equaled by the ponderosity of his language. He said he had advices from some neighboring roosts in regard to the epidemic. "A friend of mine," said he, "made in the case of a chickling patient on an adjacent farm, and I have arrived at the conclusion that this complaint is the same as was known to the ancients under the name of ornifluviatic conchifera. By observing the change of color in the regio parotica, the cervix and the regio ophthalmica, and noticing a glandular swelling of the jugulum, the pectus and the gula, you may conclude that the symptoms have set in. A case may be deemed fatal when the desiccation of the cuticle extends to the interscapulum, the uropygium and the acrotarsium. Tar water, turpentine and Holland gin applied to the tectrices magores, the tectrices minores, the flexura and the homeri, will prove an effectual obstruction to the spread of complaint.

None of my family have so far been afflicted, thanks to the supervision I exercise over their vegetable diet.

of my acquaintance recommended chickweed for the younger members of my family, but that is a plant, as you know, of the stellaria species, and in the materia medica is used only in the treatment of consumptives. I think you gentlemen of the press have much to answer for in spreading alarm among the simple-minded and ignorant of my race and among the races attached to us by a common bond of sympathy. I am of sterner stuff than my noble friend the turkey, who is so easily stuffed with nonsense, or the obsequious companion of my lighter hours, the duck, or that fresh and simple-minded the goose. The last poor fellow was already roasted with fear in the horrid expectation of your infamous holocaust on Thanksgiving, but this latest strain on his feelings has plucked his last hope and made him show the white feather. I will introduce to my gallinaceous friend of the Meleagris gallopavo from Turkey. There lies that paragon of the barnyard, the pride of the goose tribe and the delight of the ducks, quite o'erthrown. Speak to him kindly and say in your account it is nothing but a weak invention of the enemy that I lead a hen-pecked life."

DEVOTEE OF THE SPIT,

TURKEY GOBBLER'S PLEA.

Poor old turkey was hardly able to speak. He was obliged to differ from his friend cock-a-doodle. "I am really sick," he exclaimed, with much emotion, "and the truth would be known to the world only for these heartless wretches and enemies of mine, the poulterers. My friends, the butchers, know I am sick, and they appeal to a humane public to save me from a worse fate than ornicephalyzmosis. It is the shame of having my neck stretched I protest against. Am I less innocent of crime than the mammals you let go forth from the Tombs without suffering this indignity? If you have no taste for such an exhibition speak a good word for me in season. I am afraid my friend cock-a-doodle is in league with the poulterers. He knows his head will never come to the block nor his tail to a millinery store. Farewell."

THE SAUCE OF THE GOOSE.

The goose had little to say. Her friend, the turkey, and herself would be in the one boat and that, as she festively expressed it, was certain to be a sauce boat, and what was sauce for her would be sauce for her spouse, the gander.

THE LAY OF THE HEN.

The leading hen in the yard said she had given little attention to the zyprosis, as she was on another lay, but she hoped it would turn out an egg-regious falsehood, and henceforth she would never put any faith in those wretches, the poulterers.

Having thus interviewed the leading spirits of the tame fowl tribes I proceeded on my journey, and reached the conclusion that the ornicephalyzmosis is as yet in the embryo and that there is no immediate danger of their customary tables being deprived of their customary cooked ornaments from the barnyard on Thanksgiving Day.

WHAT THE POULTERERS SAY.

Six purveyors in the poultry line write to the Herald, and from their communications we give the following: "There is no unusual sickness among the poultry at present, and the best judges of poultry very generally agree that poultry coming to market at the present time is unusually healthy and good; but owing to the cold and wet weather last spring, many of the earlier chickens died, which renders the crop small in some localities, perhaps less than for some years past. We have been engaged in the poultry business for many years, and have correspondents all over the country, who also deal in poultry, and who are constant shippers to this city of poultry, game, &c., and we know of no diseased poultry coming to this market."

Greeley's Health Impaired—The Steamship Arizona Safe—Confusion in the Ranks of the "Unterrified"—Arrival of Stanley, the Discoverer of Livingstone—Another Dealer in Obscene Literature Arrested—Ex-Mayor Kalbfleisch's Answer Filed to the Divorce Suit—Destructive Fire in Jersey City—Damages Recovered from a Street Railway Company.

NEW YORK, November 20, 1872.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN JERSEY CITY.

About six o'clock this evening a fire broke out in Perrin & Hance's steam saw mill, on Fourteenth street, near Henderson street, Jersey City, destroying the building and surrounding lumber yards. Loss $15,000.

The flames extended to Jarvis & Hinewood's tobacco inspector's warehouse, bounded by Thirteenth and Fourteenth, Provost and Henderson streets, containing about 5,000 hogsheads of tobacco. The loss on tobacco is about $1,200,000; the loss on buildings about $18,000, which were insured principally in New York companies.

In close proximity was an immense six-story building containing fully five thousand hogsheads of tobacco, which fortunately escaped injury, though the wooden shutters to the windows, painted to represent iron, were somewhat charred. The newly erected shops of the Erie Railroad, also close at hand, were not injured though for a time in great danger. The dwellings in the vicinity, which were built of wood, and occupied by laborers, were soon emptied of their contents, but were saved by the firemen.

The loss on tobacco is variously estimated, though the most intelligent statement we are able to procure places the quantity burned at 3,000 hogsheads, which would bring the loss in the vicinity of $600,000 to $800,000.

Later.—Rand & Avery's establishment was completely destroyed by fire here to-night. They employed some three hundred persons, fifty of whom were girls. There was a large number of power presses of different kinds in the building, and a large amount of books and pamphlets partly finished, which will be a total loss. Rand & Avery estimate their loss at $250,000, insured mostly in Boston offices.

The following is a list of other losses, which are more or less insured, mostly in Boston offices: Abbott's bindery, $3,000; Adams & Baker's bindery, $3,000; Congregational Publishing Society, $40,000; Henry Hoyt, book publisher, $20,000, and the Congregationalist newspaper, $20,000, and the building, which was owned by the Fifty Associates, about $80,000.

The fire originated in the press room of Rand & Avery.

GREELEY'S HEALTH IMPAIRED.

The Tribune says this morning of Horace Greeley: He has been seriously unwell ever since his wife's death, from nervous prostration resulting mainly from the severe strain upon his nervous system, through want of rest and sleep during the last month of her illness. Nothing but his remarkable strength of constitution has enabled him to give attention to his recent duties, but it may be safely trusted to restore him speedily to his usual vigorous health.

THE STEAMSHIP ARIZONA SAFE.

The Pacific Mail Steamship Company announces that a dispatch has been received by them, stating that the steamship Arizona was spoken on the 4th inst., off Manzanillo, on the coast of Mexico, with her piston broken. The Arizona was in tow of the Constitution, bound for San Francisco. The passengers had been transferred to the Constitution.

THE POULTRY ALL HEALTHY.

Sergeant Thompson and three aids of the Health Department report that after inspecting all the markets in the city and numerous wholesale poultry establishments, that they found no disease, and furthermore, the fowls were never in better condition than now.

EX-MAYOR KALBFLEISCH'S DIVORCE CASE.

Ex-Mayor Kalbfleisch, of Brooklyn, has filed his answer to the complaint of Mrs. Wade, in which she seeks one hundred thousand dollars damages for breach of promise of marriage. The reply attacks the plaintiff's character, and promises proof of the allegations upon trial.

DAMAGES RECOVERED.

Dr. Nathan Newton has received a verdict of seven thousand dollars damages from the Brooklyn City Railroad Company, for injuries received in falling from one of the open cars, his ground of the suit being that the guard of the car was loose and not properly attached.

PREPARING FOR FIRES.

The President of the Board of Fire Commissioners has been authorized to arrange for the construction of a stationary pumping engine and tower near the distributing reservoir, to augment the pressure and force the volume of water into the lower part of the city.

ADVANCE IN INSURANCE RATES.

The Committee on Rates and Survey have presented, for the consideration of the Board of Fire Underwriters, a new schedule, which places an advance of from 20 to 40 per cent. on flat rates without rebate, with 5 per cent. brokerage allowed.

A MURDERER'S CHILDREN.

Judge Fancher granted an application to-day for the children of King, the murderer of O'Neill, to be given into the custody of the mother.

LECTURE ON OLIVER CROMWELL.

Every part of the Academy of Music was crowded last night to hear Father Burke on Oliver Cromwell, in reply to Froude. He spoke two hours and a half.

APPEAL FOR AID.

The Danish Consul in this city makes a public appeal for immediate aid for his countrymen, who last their property by the recent severe storms in Europe, and are now in positive want.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

Mr. Vannort, Commissioner of Public Works, says it will take $3,500,000 to give this city an adequate supply of water, and recommends immediate appropriations to that amount.

WAR ON OPENING STREETS.

A war is making on the system of opening streets that has prevailed, whereby the political favorites were made rich at the expense of property owners and the city.

CONFUSION IN THE RANKS OF THE UNTERRIFIED.

Tammany Hall resolved last night not to take action countenancing a fusion with Apollo Hall. The latter Democratic organization will consider the subject this week.

ROUMANIAN EMIGRATION SOCIETY.

A Roumanian Emigration Society was formed in this city last evening to welcome and care for the emigrants en route here.

MORE OBSCENE LITERATURE.

Julius E. Julien was held to bail in two thousand dollars for mailing obscene circulars to boarding schools and elsewhere.

A CLOSE VOTE.

Andrew J. Blessin, Tammany, is elected a member of the Assembly from the Seventeenth city district by a plurality of one vote.

ARRIVAL OF STANLEY.

Stanley arrived by the Cuba, and was escorted up the bay by delegations from the geographical societies and the Herald Club.

TRIAL OF MURDERERS.

Scannell and King will be tried in December.

CINCINNATI.

Time Changed for Holding the National Commercial Convention—National Baptist Sunday School Convention—Opposition to Contributing to Railroads—Meeting of Ohio River Improvement Commission.

CINCINNATI, November 20.—The St. Louis Committee of Arrangements of the National Commercial Convention have just notified Hon. R. M. Bishop, President of the Convention which was held in Baltimore last year, that they have changed the time of holding the next Convention from the third Monday in November, as appointed by the last Convention, and called a Convention to meet in St. Louis on Wednesday, December 11th.

NATIONAL BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The National Baptist Sunday School Convention and Institute met in this city to-day, and organized by the election of Rev. Dr. J. L. M. Surry, of Virginia, as President; Vice Presidents, H. Thane Miller, of Cincinnati, and Clement Leach, of Illinois; Secretaries, Geo. M. Vanderlip, of New York, and G. S. Yreck, of the District of Columbia.

A committee have been appointed on resolutions, but have not reported. The exercises during the day and evening were addresses and Sunday school topics laid down on the programme and discussions.

OPPOSITION TO CONTRIBUTING TO RAILROADS.

The Chamber of Commerce to-day took action adverse to the city contributing one million and a quarter bonds for the proposed Chesapeake and Cincinnati Railroad.

MEETING OF OHIO RIVER IMPROVEMENT COMMISSION.

The Ohio River Improvement Commission met this morning. A voluminous paper on a plan for improving the river was read by Capt. James E. Warrell, Civil Engineer, of Harrisburg, Pa.

This afternoon a proposition to invite the States bordering on the Mississippi river to send delegates met with favor in a discussion, and was referred to a committee for further action.

INDIANAPOLIS.

Swine Breeders' Convention—I. O. O. F.—Mr. Colfax in the Legislature.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., November 20.—An adjourned meeting of the National Swine Breeders' Convention, held in New York last May, met in this city to-day. About sixty delegates are present, representing New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas and Missouri. Dr. A. C. Stevenson, of Indiana, was chosen President of the Convention, and Geo. W. Rustoll, of the National Live Stock Journal of Chicago, Secretary.

I. O. O. F.

The Grand Lodge of I. O. O. F. of Indiana met here to-day in annual communication. An unusually large number of delegates are present.

MR. COLFAX IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Vice President Colfax visited the Legislature to-day, and made brief addresses in both branches.

BOSTON.

Almost Another Great Conflagration—The Old South Church to be Leased—Serious Accident—Both Feet Cut Off an Old Man—The Mayoralty.

BOSTON, November 20.—Shortly before seven o'clock this evening flames burst forth from the upper windows and roof of Rand & Avery's extensive printing house, No. 3 Cornhill, near the foot of Washington street. The flames shot up furiously to a great height, and a strong northerly wind carried showers of burning cinders over the buildings on the easterly side of Washington street and across State street. In response to a general fire alarm sounded, the firemen were promptly on the spot, and the steamers at once opened from State and Washington streets, Cornhill and other points adjacent to the fire, and in thirty minutes the flames, which threatened another great conflagration, were subdued, and confined to the limits in which the fire broke out.

The general fire alarm and the grand illumination caused by the shooting flames caused a great commotion, and immense crowds of excited people gathered from all parts of the city to the scene of conflagration. The military guard which has been kept up since the great fire were of important service, forming a cordon across the streets, keeping back the crowd, and giving the firemen ample room for the most efficient service.

Rand & Avery were almost entirely burned out. They had one of the largest and best appointed book and job printing establishments in New England, employing some two hundred hands.

THE OLD SOUTH CHURCH TO BE LEASED.

The pewholders of the Old South church, at a meeting to day, voted to lease the church to the Government for a postoffice.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

Nathaniel Morton, President of the Stoughton Branch Railroad, had both feet cut off at Canton last night, by falling upon the track while hastily jumping from a train in motion. He is nearly seventy years of age and is not expected to recover.

THE MAYORALTY.

Otis Norcross declines the candidacy for Mayor of Boston.

CHICAGO.

Sentence of Death Commuted—Sensation Among Grain Men.

CHICAGO, November 20.—Governor Palmer yesterday issued a commutation of the death sentence of Gregory Pert, who was to have been hanged here on the 6th of December, for the murder of Daniel O'Brien, on the 9th of October, 1871, to imprisonment in the penitentiary for life. The murder was committed in the saloon of Pert, and was the result of a quarrel between the latter and John Read, a companion of O'Brien, over a broken glass. Pert stabbed and killed both men. He was first tried for the murder of Read and sentenced by the jury to imprisonment for life, and his trial for the murder of O'Brien resulted in a sentence of death. The case was taken to the Supreme Court on a writ of supersedeas, and a majority of the court affirmed judgment. The action of the Governor causes great surprise here, as the crime was peculiarly atrocious.

SENSATION AMONG GRAIN MEN.

A sensation was created among grain men by the publication of the fact that when, in August last, in order to test the alleged discrepancy in the quantity of grain actually in store in this city and the elevator receipts in circulation, the measurement of grain in store was ordered, the proprietors of one of the elevators had false bottoms put in a number of their bins, only a few feet from the top, then covered them with grain, and they were then measured as full, making a difference of many thousand bushels.

LEGISLATURES.

Alabama.

MONTGOMERY, November 20.—Governor Lindsay to-day informed the legislative body (Conservative) sitting at the capitol, that he will send in his message to-morrow. In reply to a committee of the branch (Republican) sitting in the United States Court room, he detailed in writing the legal organization of the Legislature at the capitol, the lawful and usual place of meeting, which a supreme and insurmountable necessity can only change. He was ignorant of the existence of such a necessity, and therefore declined to recognize the body assembled in the Court room, with whom he will have no official communication.

North Carolina.

RALEIGH, N. C., November 20.—The Governor's message was read to-day in the House of Representatives. The message is devoted principally to our Federal relations, and expresses the belief that the State Government should be in full accord with the federal administration. He advises careful consideration of the question of the State debt, opposes repudiation and favors the issue of new class bonds. He declares the present legislative appointment of the State unfair, urgently advocates measures inviting immigration into the State, and congratulates the people of the State upon the greatly improved condition of the State since his last message.

The Legislature will go actively to work. The session will be short. The Election for United States Senator occurs next Tuesday.

FATHER HYACINTHE.

Two Letters to the Public—Lying Accusations Refuted.

A letter from Paris to the Cincinnati Commercial, under date of October 28th, says:

Father Hyacinthe, or as, since his Hyacinthian days of celibacy are past, we should say Rev. M. Loyson, crops out in two letters to the public prints this week. One most thoroughly refutes by quiet show of proofs a lying accusation lately brought against him of having violated a literary confidence reposed in him by Montalambert, in letting out to print a certain manuscript intrusted by that distinguished liberal but orthodox Catholic gentleman to him just before he left his convent and broke with the Church. Added to this direct charge of breach of confidence, is the implication, strengthened to assertion by the accuser's misrepresentation of isolated facts of another order, that Hyacinthe's leaving of his convent was followed by a rupture of all good relations between him and Montalambert. That this implication is grossly erroneous, the Rev. Loyson unfolds by straightforward citations from letters of Montalambert of later date, with potentous clearness. The other letter is addressed to the Univers, the very able and brutal organ of the black Radical Ultramontane party in France. It is in answer to its chief editor, Veuillot's virulent and indecent abuse of Mr. Loyson, apropos of his marriage with the American widow. It is in good taste, courteous in tone, and of a mild, forgiving, Christian spirit—which does not exclude, on the contrary of itself is, under the circumstances, an epigrammatic pungency:

"It is late to reply to your insults of two months ago. My excuse is that, on principle, I do not read your journal, which I have long regarded as the least Christian in the world. Your excesses of injustice, violence, and hatred pain me, as a Christian, as a man I let them pass. feel almost honored by them. In any case, I want to tell you that I forgive you, love you. I am not of those who think you are playing a part; I think you are not a hypocrite, but a fanatic, which is different and better—say not so bad—and deserve respectful pity.

"I shall continue, despite what you may say, sir, to celebrate the mass, as did the married priests and bishops of the early ages, as the married priests of the East still do—and shall ask God to show your misled, but believing soul, the extent of the havoc you are doing to the Church while meaning to serve it. Believe, sir and brother in Christ Jesus, in my most sincere and devout sentiments of charity to youward.

HYACINTHE LOYSON."

To which and whom Mr. devout editor Louis Veuillot, ex wine shop-keeper, responds with characteristic fraternal amenity: "Let God forgive him, I have no objection. That is not my business. My business is to sprinkle him with chlorides and vinegar, and to light fumigations round about him, that may render him less dangerous. To be forgiven, it is not enough that he loves me. He must weep. He is not yet entered on the right road."

Meantime another priest, long struggling between the authority of the old habit and the spirit of the new time, sends to the public prints this week a copy of his letter to his diocesan, the Bishop of Versailles, declaring in firm but moderate terms the final revolt of his conscience against the—not the Catholic Church, but its later-day, corrupted, Romanized administration. It is not an event, but is a noteworthy sign of a movement, of which Dr. Doellinger, Father Hyacinthe and the rest of the neo-"old Catholics" are but the indicators—in no sort capable of being the conductors. It drives them—not they it.

SIAMESE PUNISHMENT.

Probable Execution of Four Siamese Princesses.

The Indian Statesman says: "There are rumors that three or four princesses of Siam and two servants had been accused of stealing gold chains, diamonds and precious stones. The gold chains, diamonds and other precious stones that were attached to the King's sword had been taken away, and imitation chains and stones had replaced them. These depredations, it is rumored, were made during the late reign, but have only recently been discovered. Some say those accused of the theft have received ninety lashes each. The servants are to be executed, and the princesses disposed of as the law provides for persons of their rank, if found really guilty of the theft. Others say the ladies of rank who are implicated are being tried, and it is not yet known what their punishment will be.

"If there is any basis for the rumors, and the princesses should be implicated and found guilty, their sentence will doubtless be death. The execution of princes and princesses would be at some prominent temple. They would be bound and fastened in a bag, a block of chanwood of triangular shape would be placed on the ground, and the fastened body turned face downward, so as to bring the neck below the chin on the triangular block. At a given signal the first executioner, after raising his chanwood cudgel, would strike the fatal blow on the back of the neck, and the three other executioners, similarly armed, would continue their blows upon the body until it entirely ceased to quiver. The bag containing the body would then be weighted and thrown into the river. This, it is stated, is the way in which his Royal Highness Kroma Luang Rak Ronnasset was executed in 1849."

—Stanton, the man with the $250,000 ruby, arrived in Denver, Col., from Arizona, last Tuesday night, and freely exhibited the gem, which is very beautiful, though jewelers doubt as to its being anything more than a garnet. He also shows what he calls a $15,000 diamond. Another diamond company is organizing.

SECOND EDITION.

Four O'Clock.

HARRISBURG.

The Convention Enters on Its Second Week.

THE PRESIDENT IN CONSULTATION ON THE COMMITTEES.

The Question of Reporting Advanced Towards Settlement.

THE CONVENTION TO ELECT AN OFFICIAL REPORTER OF DEBATES.

Special to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

HARRISBURG, November 20, 1872.

There were but a few delegates absent when the Convention was called to order this morning. The President was not ready to announce the Standing Committees, and the proceedings were but slightly advanced towards a permanent basis for business. I judge the duty of organizing the committees is found to be a very onerous one, involving much study of the antecedents and capabilities of delegates. It is no secret that the President has been in consultation with the prominent members of both parties, including such delegates as Messrs. MacVeigh, Armstrong, Curtin, Judge Black, Woodward and Buckalew.

COST OF REPORTING AND PRINTING.

After the usual opening exercises, this morning, the President submitted to the Convention a communication from the Auditor General's office, in answer to a resolution calling for a statement of the cost of reporting, printing and mailing the debates of the Convention of 1837-'38. There was not much definite information in the report, which set forth the following expenses of the last Convention:

Printing and Binding	$99,525 40
Stenographers	7,759 71
Contingencies	49,540 11
Total	$156,816 22

Transportation of debates and postage was paid out of the contingent fund, and there is no detailed statement of this fund on file in the Auditor's Department.

ABUSES NOT TOLERATED.

A delegate who possibly had a constituent in view offered a resolution directing the employment of a suitable person to take charge of the coal room. [Cries of "no," "no."] The resolution was amended by directing the assistant doorkeeper to perform the duty, and adopted.

Another delegate wanted to go into that favorite legislative industry, the Purdon Digest business, by providing a certain number of copies for the use of delegates. He was met by a storm of "no," "no."

Suffering delegate—I want a Purdon and can't get one.

Unsympathizing delegate—Buy one in Philadelphia then. [Laughter, amid which the resolution was emphatically rejected.]

Subsequently Judge Woodward offered a resolution providing the members with stationery to an amount not exceeding fifty dollars for each delegate, an account of the same to be kept by the Secretary of the Convention. The resolution was voted down—although there must be stationery, and somebody must pay for it.

These proceedings sufficiently indicate the temper of the delegates as to voting extras of any kind, or making places for needless officials.

The resolution offered by Mr. Purviance, of Butler, on Thursday last, proposing a new rule that the Committees on Accounts and Expenditures of the Convention when appointed, shall examine all accounts and report the same to the Convention with the proper disposition to be made of them, was taken up and adopted as an additional rule. The law makes no designation of a disbursing officer for the Convention, and this rule is to start the Convention right in its financial operations, by making it responsible for its expenditures.

RESIGNATIONS.

A resolution was offered that the Convention will not hereafter accept the resignation of any delegate unless good and sufficient reasons are submitted therefor. Rejected.

HALL IN PHILADELPHIA.

Mr. Addicks, from the Special Committee appointed to confer with the Committee of Philadelphia Councils in reference to a hall in that city for the use of the Convention, reported a conference with the Committee of Councils, and that Concert Hall, on Chestnut street, has been secured for the services of the Convention after the first of January. I learn that the hall has been leased by the Philadelphians for six months, at a rental of one thousand dollars a month, and that it is probable the cost of fitting it up for the use of delegates with desks, etc., will amount to not less than one thousand dollars more. The hall is one of those large barn-like structures well fitted for orchestral demonstrations and musical performances, but unsuited in all respects for the sessions and proceedings of a deliberative body. There is talk the delegates will be partitioned off in one corner so as to be brought within hearing distance of each other and to curb the admirable echo of the hall. The legislative hall where the sessions are now held, is so admirably adapted for the purposes of the Convention that there is a pretty general feeling of regret that its proceedings cannot be completed here. This is confessed even by many who voted for the Philadelphia fitting.

At the session to-day, Mr. Lilly, of Mauch Chunk, moved to reconsider the vote by which the resolution was adopted, that all sessions of the Convention should be held in Philadelphia, after the first of January. The motion to reconsider failed by a vote of 48 ayes to 68 nays. The yeas and nays in the motion were as follows:

YEAS—Messrs. Ainey, Alricks, Aughenbaugh, Baer, Bailey, (Perry), Bowman, Broomall, Cochran, Collins, Darlington, De France, Dunning, Edwards, Elliott, Fulton, Funck, Gibson, Hal, Hazzard, Horton, Howard, Kaine, Lamberton, Lawrence, Lilly, Landis, M'Clean, M'Connell, M'Culloch, M'Murray, MacVeagh, Mann, Metzger, Niles, Patterson, (Lancaster), Purviance (Allegheny), Purviance (Butler), Reynolds, James L. Rooke, Russell, Smith, (Berks), Struthers, Van Reed, Walker, White, (Indiana), White, David N., Wherry and White, J. W. F.—48.

NAYS—Messrs. Armstrong, Andrews, Addicks, Bartholomew, Bailey (Huntingdon), Baker, Bannan, Bardsley, Beebe, Biddle, Boyd, Brodhead, Buckalew, Curtin, Campbell, Corbett, Carter, Cassiday, Church, Corson, Curry, Cuyler, Davis, Dimmick, Dodd, Dallas, Ellis, Ewing, Fell, Gowen, Guthrie, Hanna, Harvey, Hay, Hemphill, Heverin, Hunsecker, Knight, Lear, Littleton, Long, M'Allister, M'Camant, Mantor, Minor, Newlin, Parsons, Patterson (Allegheny), Patton, Porter, Reed (Philadelphia), Reed (Mifflin), Ross, Rusk, Smith (Allegheny), Sharpe, Simpson, Smith (Lancaster), Stanton, Stewart, Temple, Turrell, Woodward, Wetherill (Philadelphia), Wetherill (Schuylkill), Worrall, Wright and Meredith. President—68.

REPORTING AND PRINTING.

A tiresome debate took place on the report of the Committee on Rules on the subject of reporting proceedings of Convention. The Committee recommended that the Committee on Accounts be directed to report the proper amount to be paid for stenographing the proceedings, that the President shall appoint the official Reporter of the Convention, who shall employ his assistants and be responsible for the performance of the work.

At the request of the President, the resolution was amended so as to relieve him of the appointment of the Official Reporter, and that that official shall be elected by the Convention.

There was much opposition developed to any reports under the authority of the Convention. Judge Woodward said it would cost the State not less than three hundred thousand dollars, instancing the figures reported as to the amount expended for the purposes of the Convention of 1838.

Mr. Darlington, to test the sense of the Convention, offered a resolution that it is inexpedient to officially report debates and proceedings—lost, ayes 50, nays 57—a much closer vote than was looked for.

After several attempts had been made to connect the printing and reporting questions, and looking to placing both branches under the control of a single person or firm, the resolution reported by the Committee was adapted. So we are to have a report on the cost of reports, to be followed by the election of an official reporter, authorized to employ all needful assistance. A clause was added to the resolution that no speeches be reported not delivered within the bar of the Convention.

Mr. Purviance, of Allegheny, made an argument as to the binding force of the contract with the State Printer.

Mr. Gowan, of Philadelphia, offered a resolution on the subject, which was adopted, directing the Committee on Printing when appointed, to report "whether the contract between the State and the present public printer entitles such printer to the printing and binding of the Convention; and if their report upon the subject be in the negative, they shall give their reasons therefore; and shall also receive and report to the Convention bids for the printing and binding."

REPORT OF SECRETARY OF STATE.

The President laid before the Convention a communication from the Secretary of State, in response to a resolution, giving the expenses in detail of the executive and legislative departments of the State Government.

At one o'clock the Convention actually came to a stand still for want of business and adjourned.

SICILY.

PARTICULARS OF THE RECENT HURRICANE.

NEW YORK, November 20.—The London Times has the following account of the hurricane in Sicily, which destroyed the town of Halazollo: There has been no instance of such a calamity within the memory of living man. No earthquake ever caused so much destruction. There are houses ruined, houses fallen to the ground, walls cleft from end to end, and walls hanging outwards, as if to rest on adjoining houses. There are roofs wholly swept away, sunken vaults, balconies torn from their places, windows and shutters either entirely carried off or hanging loose from the walls, lamp posts forced from their sockets, up-rooted trees, and this is all one sees along the northeast side of the town. Not a single house remains in which the whole roof and windows do not require thorough repairs. The streets are a mass of fragments and rubbish.

The incidents of the disaster are strange, so as to be almost incredible. There was a store with twenty-five hectolitres of wheat, of which not a trace is anywhere to be seen. The books of the Excise and of the Land Registry offices have vanished, and only their torn leaves have been found here and there at great distances. In one house all the copper kitchen utensils were blown through the roof. In another benches and heavy chests flew through the windows. The iron bars of one balcony are to be seen curled up one way, and those of another twisted up another way. There is a pillar of a palace which has been moved forward one foot without breaking, and stands up, isolated, all in one piece. There is a wall of another palace which has fallen back more than three feet, without a crack. Here is a beam of one house which has thrust itself into another house. There is half a bedstead, the other half of which lies no one knows where. All the tiles of one building are huddled together in one spot, on the roof, crushed and broken up small, as if they had been pounded. The rafters of another are all bare. The tiles have flown, no one can see where. In a stable, on the bare ground, men are lying bodies one by one, as they are being dug out. Most of them are in their night dresses, having been crushed as they were quietly sleeping. Their features and forms are so disfigured that one cannot look at them without shuddering. Their nostrils, ears and mouths are stopped up with earth. The white dust has everywhere pierced through the skin. Here is the body of a man holding close to his heart a child, probably his own child. The skulls of both are shattered. There are two young men in each others' arms, probably brothers. The chests and backs of both are crushed. Near them is another youth, covered with blood. He was a clerk in a Government office. He has his eye glass still stuck in his right eye. He was probably reading or writing when he was struck. There are some mauled past recognition, others that seem unhurt, about look as if they were sleeping.

Without exaggeration, one third of the town is dismantled, and more than a thousand families are literally without a home. About one thousand more have one little corner of "what was once their house" to shelter them. The dead number thirty-two—seriously hurt, about a half a score besides.

FRANCE.

REPORTED RESIGNATION OF THIERS.

LONDON, November 20.—A Paris dispatch says that President Thiers has resigned, and that General MacMahon has been appointed President, pending the action of the General Assembly.

NEW YORK, November 20.—London dispatches up to five o'clock this afternoon make no mention of the reported changes in the French Government, and consequently there is reason to doubt the truth of the resignation of President Thiers.

PRESIDENT OF THE NATIONAL ASSEMBLY.

PARIS, November 20.—The committee of the National Assembly appointed to draw up a reply to the opening message of President Thiers has, by a vote of nine to six, elected the Duc de Parquier d' Audiffet President. This choice is regarded as unfavorable to the Government.

RESTITUTION OF CONFISCATED PROPERTY.

PARIS, November 20.—The National Assembly has given its approval at an early day of a project for the restitution to the Orleans Princes of their confiscated property.

THE PRESIDENCY.

PARIS, November 20, midnight, via London, 21, 6 A. M.—Marshal MacMahon refuses the Presidency in case M. Thiers should resign.

SPAIN.

THE KING'S HEALTH.

MADRID, November 20.—It is officially announced to-day that King Amadeus passed a bad night. His rheumatism and fever continue.

REVOLUTIONARY MOVEMENTS.

A band of thirty-five masked men has destroyed telegraph wires and thrown from the track a railroad train between the towns of Almeria and Albacete, in the Province of Marcia.

Armed bands, supposed to be Republicans, have appeared between Penagulia and Beniglo, in the Province of Valencia. There are also revolutionary symptoms at Alcoy, in the same province. Civil guards have been concentrated at Almeria, in Andalusia.

ITALY.

MEETING FORBIDDEN.

ROME, November 20.—The Prefect of Police of this city has issued an order forbidding the assembling of a meeting advertised to be held here on the 24th inst., in furtherance of the principal of universal suffrage, because he has reason to believe that the meeting is really called in the interest of the opposition to the present form of government in Rome.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

It is reported that a second Ecclesiastical province of the Roman Catholic Church is to be established in England, with Liverpool as a metropolitan See.

GERMANY.

THE REFORM QUESTION.

BERLIN, November 20.—The Lower House of the Prussian Diet has almost unanimously decided to proceed immediately to the second reading of the counties reform bill. During a discussion in the Chambers of Deputies to day, Count Eulenburg stated the reforms contemplated in the bill would not be extended to Posen, because that province was not ripe for reform and had not been dutiful in its conduct towards the Government.

GREAT BRITAIN.

THE POLICE DIFFICULTIES CONTINUING.

LONDON, November 20.—The police difficulties continue unsettled. The Postmen have joined in asking from the Government an increase in their salary, and both bodies will hold a meeting in Hyde Park on Sunday next.

POLICE DISMISSED.

LONDON, November 21—6 A. M.—The trouble with the Metropolitan police continues. Seventy Bow street constables and thirty-nine Kensington officers have been dismissed from the service.

THE RIVERS.

CINCINNATI, November 20.—River 8 feet 2 inches; falling. Arrived—Anna, Memphis; Kate Putnam, Marietta. Departed—Mollie Ragon, Memphis; Charmer, Evansville.

Wednesday's Cincinnati Commercial says the Henry Probasco, for Pittsburgh, and R. R. Hudson, for Wheeling departed with moderate trips. The Sam Brown passed up from St. Louis to Pittsburgh with three barges, containing 1,200 ton, of ore for Pittsburgh. The Storm No. 3 was expected to pass up last night with a tow of ore from St. Louis. The amount of coal in Louisville belonging to Pittsburgh owners is 4,000,000 bushels, in 140 boats and 79 barges.

CAIRO, November 20.—Arrived—Raven, Ohio river, noon; Colorado, Memphis, 1 P. M.; Ella Hughes, Evansville, 3 P. M.; Robert Mitchell, Louisville, 4 P. M.; Petrell, Ohio river, 4 P. M.; Kellogg, St. Louis, 1 P. M. The Helena and Colorado laid up here. River stationary. Clear and cold; thermometer 26.

ST. LOUIS, November 20.—Arrived—Bertram, Eagle and Little Eagle, Quincy; Clinton, Keokuk; Exchange, Pittsburgh. Departed—Ames, Belle of Shreveport, and John B. Maude, New Orleans; Garnett, Wheeling; Capital City, Vicksburg; St. Luke and St. Joseph, Memphis; John Lumsden, Memphis. River falling. There is a good deal of ice running. Clear and cold.

LOUISVILLE, November 20.—2 feet 4 inches in chute. Clear and cold; mercury ranged from 22 to 28. Arrived—Nick Longworth, New Orleans; Potomac, Memphis; Coal Hill and barges, St. Louis. The J. W. Kolbaugh passed down with 40 loads of produce. The Longworth and Potomac laid up at Portland, waiting for the opening of the new looks, which will probably be in ten days or more.

EVANSVILLE, November 20.—Clear and cold; mercury 19. River fallen 5 inches. Down—Idlewild, midnight; Jas. D. Parker, 8 A. M.; Jno. Kilgour, 2 P. M.; Gray Eagle, 4. Up—Florence Lee, 1 A. M.; Quickstep, 4; Mary Ament, 4:30 P. M. Business light.

VICKSBURG, November 20.—Down—C. B. Church and Crescent City and barges. Clear and cool. River stationary.

NEW ORLEANS, November 20.—Arrived—Jno. F. Tolle, St. Louis, Belle Lee, Memphis. Departed—James Howard, Louisville; John S. Howard, Arkansas River; Seminole, White River. Clear and cool.

MEMPHIS, November 20.—Clear and cold. River stationary. Arrived—Arlington, Cincinnati. Departed—Fanny Lewis, Mary Poe and Grand Tower, St. Louis; Mary Forsythe and City of Cairo, New Orleans.

THE CAPITAL.

Interview Between Minister Nelson and the President—Our Relations with Mexico—Murderers to be Hanged—Weather Probabilities—Fairman Appointed Postmaster at Philadelphia—The Committee on Appropriations at Work.

WASHINGTON, November 20, 1872.

OUR RELATIONS WITH MEXICO.

Our Minister to Mexico, Nelson, had a long interview with President Grant this afternoon, relative to the condition of affairs in that country. He speaks in terms of praise of the new President of that Republic, and particularly of his intelligence and desire to strengthen the friendship now existing between his own country and the United States. There seems to be no obstacle in the way of concluding a new convention and extending the time for disposing of the remaining claims before the United States and Mexican mixed commission, which by limitation will expire under the present Convention in February next. It is stated that the Mexican President is anxious for such extension, and will appoint an agent in good faith to carry out the design of the commission in place of Guzman, by whose action the proceedings were for some weeks interrupted. Preliminary steps have already been taken for a new Convention.

MURDERERS TO BE HANGED.

Barney Woods, convicted of the murder of P. M. Cheesman, of New York, will be hanged on the 26th inst., the Attorney General having decided against his application for commutation of the sentence.

Charles Johnson, convicted of the murder of his wife, will be hanged on the 10th of December.

A motion for a new trial for Charles H. O'Brien, a policeman recently convicted of murder, is now pending. Should the motion be denied, he will also be hanged.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

On the lower lakes, and thence over the Middle and New England States, clearing, cold weather and south-westerly to north-westerly winds; in the Gulf and South Atlantic States, high barometers, generally clear weather, and winds veering to north-easterly; in the northwest, south easterly to south-westerly winds, cloudy weather, and falling barometers, extending to-morrow to the lower Ohio valley and to the upper lakes, with snow.

POSTMASTER AT PHILADELPHIA APPOINTED.

Hon. Wm. F. Kelly, of Pennsylvania, had a long interview with the President to-day, during which the Philadelphia Postmastership was talked over freely. At a later period Mr. Fairman was formally appointed to that office.

COMMITTEE ON APPROPRIATIONS AT WORK.

The Committee on Appropriations, at their meeting to-day, took up the Indian Appropriation bill, and nearly completed their action upon it.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS,

From Various Points.

—There is a crisis in the Hungarian cabinet.

—Fourteen inches of snow fell in Cleveland yesterday.

—The family of Wm. M. Tweed have returned to New York.

—Crown Prince Frederick William is recovering from his illness.

—The vote in South Carolina was 95,217—Grant's majority 49,856.

—The lower branch of the Spanish Cortes passed the mortgage bank bill.

—The Society of the Grand Army of the Cumberland is holding its sixth annual reunion in Dayton, Ohio.

—The third annual session of the American Women's Suffrage Association convened in St. Louis last night.

—The President being engaged on his message, will receive but few visitors before the meeting of Congress.

—Governor Brown, of Missouri, has sent Adjutant General Segel to Lafayette county to investigate the alleged disturbed condition of affairs there.

—The report telegraphed that the Amazon and Triumph Insurance companies of Cincinnati had withdrawn their agencies from the New England States is an error.

—The steamers Cuba, from Liverpool, and Cimbria, from Hamburg, have arrived at New York; Deutschland, from New York, at Southampton, and Franklin, from New York, at Stettin.

—Secretary Belknap will return to Washington on Monday next, when the President, General Sherman and the Secretary will have a conference in relation to the successor of General Meade.

—A Havana letter states that the slaveholders of Cuba are taking every means possible to retain slavery, and have expended six hundred thousand dollars to secure from Minister Zorilla this expression: "While a single insurgent remains in arms there shall be no reforms in Cuba."

—A fiendish attempt was made to throw the evening train from Portland, Maine, from the track, near Wamingdale, yesterday evening. A plank and heavy sleeper were placed across the track. The engine cut the plank in two at both ends, and the sleeper was thrown aside by the cow catcher. Had the attempt succeeded, the train must have been thrown down an embankment some twenty feet.

THE PRODUCERS' COUNCIL.

Meeting at Oil City—A Secret Session—Plans of the Agency—A List of Directors Suggested.

The General Council of Oil Producers held a meeting in Oil City on Tuesday. No business of importance was transacted during the day, and in the evening the Council went into an executive session, and reporters were excluded.

The Titusville Herald of yesterday says: "Although the proceedings were not intended for publication, it might be well to state that the time was occupied in the discussion and investigation of the provisions contained in the various charters. It was found that the Agency may work either under the general law of the State, or under one of three special charters. The general law limits the capital stock to one million dollars, and grants fifteen directors instead of thirteen. One of the special charters best suited to the necessities of the Agency limits the number of directors to seven. The question discussed was the desirability of starting under this charter with only seven directors, and waiting for six or eight weeks until an increase of directors can be authorized by act of the Legislature. It is also understood that the stockholders will pledge the directors to govern the Agency in accordance with the plan of the General Council. The day for the election of directors will be fixed at the earliest practicable moment. The delay is evidently caused by the extreme anxiety of every member of the Council to do nothing which will not meet the unqualified approval of the whole producing interest."

Following will be found a list of the gentlemen who have been suggested in the several districts as available for positions as Directors of the Petroleum Producers' Agency:

First District—H. L. Taylor, M. Brownson, G. H. Dimick, A. L. Campbell, James E. Brown.

Second District—R. B. Campbell, S. D. Karns, Wm. Parker.

Third District—M. E. Hess, John Fertig, E. C. Bradley.

Fourth District—F. W. Mitchell.

Fifth District—J. M. Dickey, E. D. Yates.

Sixth District—C. V. Culver.

The Constitutional Convention got to work yesterday, but owing to the lack of time for preparing the Standing Committees, another adjournment is spoken of.

The Massachusetts Legislature is in special session, to take such measures as may seem to be necessary because of the Boston fire. The most important feature of the proposed legislation is that which refers to the protection of persons who may have taken out policies of insurance.

In another paragraph, we speak of Thiers' foolish proposition to resign the Presidency of the French Republic, because his majority, on a vote of confidence, was not as large as he imagined it should be. Later telegrams report that he has actually resigned, and that General MacMahon is President ad interim. Great excitement is reported to exist. All this looks badly for the Republic. We need confirmation of the report before crediting it.

There is likely to be a warm contest for the Speakership of the House of Representatives at its next session between Speaker Blaine and General Butler. It is said that the Speaker desires to have the old House to hold over, under a special law, to be enacted, and thus he hopes to secure his reelection and the control of the committees. Butler, however, is as active as he, and the probabilities are that their fight must be carried over to the new organization. Yet, even there, Blaine will be strong as against Butler, unless the Pennsylvania delegation should turn against the Speaker for committee reasons, at the next session.

The Secretary of the Navy is likely to urge, it is understood, the immediate construction of ten vessels of war, suitable for rapid cruising, and yet for foreign service. It is time the policy of the Government in regard to its navy, were thoroughly discussed, and determined. We believe the true policy to be to only use so many comparatively light vessels as may be needed to give protection to our commerce. The present costly armor plated war vessels may prove to be utterly useless, should we not have a war for several years. The Monitor, constructed at the outbreak of the rebellion, revolutionized naval warfare as well as architecture. The same may occur again. Therefore, there is no need of expensive vessels for war purposes. We simply need protection for our commerce, not heavy, cumbious ships of war.

We publish, in another column, a communication from A. W. Foster, Esq., which clearly and tersely embodies a proposed reform in the manner of electing members of the Legislature. It simply proposes to abolish limitations of choice, and permits each voter to select his candidate for the Legislature, from any part of the State. The chief objection to the plan is that it is cumbrous,—yet the object aimed at strongly recommends it. It seeks to develop a higher grade of intelligence and purity in the Legislature. We really think the plan much more comprehensible and simple than Buckalew's, and believe it to be better than his. We commend the whole subject, as stated by the author, to our members in the Constitutional Convention, hoping that something even better, but that shall aim at the same result, may be invented.

It is quite well understood that both the President and Postmaster General recommend to Congress that measures be taken to bring the telegraphs of the country under government control. This subject has been passed under thorough review time and again, and there is no need of a re-presentation of the arguments employed, pro and con. We have little doubt that the Western Union Telegraph officials have alternately beared and bulled their stocks on the merits of the rumors of government action, and we hope, therefore, that whatever the government thinks of doing will be promptly and thoroughly done. It is clearly established, we think, that the control, by the government, of telegraph lines will not only result in the immediate reduction of rates, but in the rapid increase of business. In Great Britain the business increased so rapidly, that last year, the government netted handsomely by the operation. If Congress proposes to act at all on this subject, we hope it will be prompt.

President Thiers is at his old tricks. He proposes to resign the Presidency of the French Republic, because there was not a larger majority in his favor on a vote of confidence! It is such foolishness that ever and anon provokes the suspicion in the American mind, that the French Republic is not destined to endure. The amusing though childish feature of the entire transaction is, that Thiers is said to have passed a sleepless night, during which, no less than two delegations waited on him to induce him to restrain himself. The conversations and arguments are given, also, the upshot of the entire transaction being that he is to ask for another vote of confidence, in the hope that he may have a larger majority. We hope he will. If the poor old fellow cannot get along without a liberal count of noses on his side, let the count be made. But if the French Republic has no more stamina than to rock and reel over a vote of confidence, we have little hope of its weathering any real storm. It is rather suggestive, too, to consider the remedies proposed for the possible resignation or death of Thiers. A triumvirate,—the old, foolish plan,—is again up, and meeting with favor. The road from a triumverate to a monarchy, empire, or dictatorship, is wonderfully plain and direct. The three, clothed with governing power, disagree. The people become wearied with their controversies, and in one impulsive moment the government goes down. So it has been,—so it will be again. Poor, unhappy France!

The importance of pictorial papers as an element of political influence, was never more clearly apparent than during the Presidential contest just over. And Nast was par excellence, superior to all others as a designer and engraver of political cartoons. Morgan was brought over from England and employed on Frank Leslie's paper, as a competitor to Nast, but he was rarely heard of. There was a lack of definiteness and point in Morgan's cartoons, or else they were so distorted and unreal as to inspire a feeling of contempt. But Nast, though charged with being unfeeling, and even brutal,—as in the cartoon of Sumner kneeling at Brooks' grave,—was never charged with lacking point. He always inculcated a definite lesson, which generally was terribly effective against the Liberals. There is no doubt that he appealed to the masses in behalf of the re-election of President Grant more powerfully than did any other one influence. Always seizing upon the salient point of ridicule, he yet gave the surroundings an artistic finish that took away from the entire work the grossness of caricature. Who, for instance, can readily think of Greeley, except as an innocent faced, pot bellied farmer, or of Schurz, without remembering his long legs, and sinister look or of Andy Johnson, without thinking of that expressive nose, or of Tweed, without seeing that look of fox-like cunning in his heavy face. Thus throughout, Nast always gave prominence to really striking traits, either of character or of profession. He thus fairly captured that shrewd, realistic element in American taste, while Morgan, by either seeking to invest his subjects with a character that did not really belong to them, or by absolute distortion, usually failed of influence. Nast was favored too, in his surroundings, while Morgan was engaged on a paper of little or no reputation. The Harpers placed at the head of their Weekly a distinguished politician and litterateur, who has made it in spite of its pictures, a power in public affairs. Its pictures are thus well set; and, where they are good, go out to the world with the porte and air of high origin. The rough edge of Nast's work, even at its coarsest, is somewhat refined by the company in which it finds itself, whilst from the same cause, his best touches receive additional consequence and polish. Thus his work, with its surroundings has been an immense political power.

THE ILLINOIS SENATORSHIP.

The contest for the United States Senatorship in Illinois, promises to be very animated, and may even become bitter. The several candidates are at Springfield, and their chances are being very actively canvassed. Governor Oglesby claims that there is an understanding that he is to have the position, and that if he is honorably treated, there will be no contest whatever. He has none of the members of the Legislature pledged, and his friends are unable to determine how many votes will be cast for him. Mr. Washburne is also at the State Capital. Oglesby's friends claim that Washburne denied that he was a candidate, not long since, and inquire somewhat anxiously why he is not on his way back to France? Washburne's friends show that Oglesby, not long since, denied that he was a candidate for the Senate, and thus the two are equal. On the other hand, they claim that Mr. Washburne has overshadowing merits and point to his brilliant record abroad, to his devotion to the interests of his constituents when at home, and to his ability and fitness for the Senate. They claim that his extended experience in Congress would enable him to at once assume a leading position in the Senate, and reflect immediate lustre upon the State; that the Germans are for him as a reward for his services to their countrymen during the French war, and to keep Beveridge from being Governor; that Oglesby was really not a candidate for the Senate since June last; that he wrote a letter in that month to the Chicago Evening Journal, saying that he was running for Governor; that the latter was in reply to the charge that he simply desired the Governorship as a stepping-stone to the Senate; but the latter left the inference that he would serve his time as Governor, and that though he might rather be Senator, the people preferred he should duplicate his former excellent administration of the Executive Department.

The development of this contest between Oglesby and Washburne has brought out another candidate in the person of Hon. Shelby M. Cullum, who served in Congress with Mr. Washburne, and who is said to be the first choice of Senator Logan. The plan is, to elect Cullum Speaker, and then should the two formidable candidates exhaust each other's strength, to bring Cullum forward as a compromise candidate. To make up a three cornered fight, unless Cullum should be voted for by enough at the outset to make him a compromise candidate, a man named Scammon is to be thrown in as the diverting force. Altogether it is an interesting contest. Should Washburne make the election, he may be heard from in a more prominent relation, before many years will roll away. It is well known that President Grant regards him very highly. What if he should desire that his early friend be his successor in the Presidential office?

PRUSSIAN POLITICAL CRISIS.

Our readers may have noticed, from time to time, within the past few weeks, brief telegrams in our columns, referring to the rejection, by the Upper House of the Prussian Landtag, of a bill, proposed by one of the Cabinet Ministers, and supported by the Crown, proposing certain internal reforms. The movement is in itself an important one, the King having under advisement the increase of the number of members, in order to carry the measure. From various sources we gather the facts and history of the case. It is not, in an extreme sense, a crisis, such as will occasion violent action,—but is, rather, an attempt, on the part of the Conservatives in the Landtag, to prevent the development of certain Liberal movements, intended by the government to benefit the people.

The chief design of the measure defeated in the Landtag, was to give the bourgeoisie, or small land holders and peasantry, more power in the county assemblies than they had before possessed, and the election of the Landrathe. For governmental convenience, Prussia is divided into provinces, districts and communes. The first are natural geographical divisions; the second are arbitrary departments, created for governmental convenience, and answer to counties in this country; the last are mere townships. These districts are governed by executive officers, called the Landrathe, who have heretofore been appointed by the King, but really by the petty sovereigns of the interior. Thus, by controlling the appointment of all the offices, these petty aristocrats wielded nearly absolute power over the several districts. But by making the Landrathe elective of the Assemblies, and giving the peasantry and burgousie increased power in the Assemblies, all this power passes out of the possession of the nobility, and into the hands of the people. This will explain the hostility of the Upper House of the Landtag to the measure, and the cordial support given it in the Lower House.

The movement on the part of the Government to confer increased power on the people, by abandoning some of its own was inaugurated immediately after the Austrian war of 1866, and was designed as a recognition of the services of the people in that memorable campaign. Various causes combined to delay the measure, the war with France being the last cause of hinderance. Since then the bill was completed, passed by the Lower House, and defeated in the Upper, at an extra session held after the regular session had taken a recess. This fact enables the King to refer the subject back to the Lower House, and thus bring it up again in regular course.

In the meantime, it is proposed to bring the refractory peers to terms by the means that were suggested by Gladstone, during his contest with the House of Lords in England,—the creation of new peers. It seems that in 1861 a bill was passed reducing the proprietory seats in the Upper House from ninety to forty-one. In 1865 this law was repealed, and the ancient feudal quota of representation restored. This has been gradually filling up, but now the King will probably secure, in the further accessions that may be made, a majority for his measure. This entire contest is based upon the singular fact that it is an attempt, on the part of the petty nobility, to defeat the Liberal tendencies and wishes of the King. Yet when the King was crowned in 1861, it was generally believed that the country would suffer from his ultra views of the divine rights of Kings to rule. Bismarck was regarded as a violent partisan of this idea, and Liberals looked upon the future of Prussia and Germany with gloomy forebodings. Now, the King and his favorite minister are anxious to confer enlarged privileges on the people, by abandoning certain Crown prerogatives and the petty nobility resist. This shows where the real trouble in Germany is,—not with the people, nor yet entirely with the Emperor, but with the petty nobility, whose sole importance is derived from certain feudal privileges, to which they cling with tenacious hold.

A PROPOSED REFORM.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

With your permission I will endeavor to state fully my plan of electing members of the Legislature, endeavoring to show that it is very plain, as well as greatly calculated to improve the material of that important branch of our Government.

Each voter in the State to vote for one person to be a member of the Senate, and one person to be a Representative, without regard to the place of residence of the person voted for. These ballots are counted and returned as now practiced, and the prothonotary in each county forwards to the Governor a certified copy thereof.

On a fixed day, the Governor ascertains from the returns forwarded to him, first, the whole number of votes cast in the State for Senators and Representatives respectively; second, the number of votes cast for each person voted for for the Senate, and the number cast for each person voted for for Representative. He then proceeds to ascertain, by dividing the whole vote cast for Senators, by 11—the number of Senators elected annually—what I would call the constituency of a Senator; for instance, say 700,000 votes were so polled, then 63,637 would be such constituency. In such case, those persons voted for for Senator, not exceeding 11 in number, who should receive more than one half that number of votes—say 31,819—should be proclaimed elected. If more than 11 received that number, then the 11 highest to be regarded as chosen; if a lesser number received the requisite vote—say 9, for instance—then that number to be declared elected, and the names of the four next highest in vote should be appended to the Proclamation, with a statement of the vote given to each of them; and after the Senate had organized and before it had proceeded to any legislative business whatever, the members should choose two of the four so being next highest in vote, to fill the vacancies; and all vacancies should be filled in like manner. To avoid making this draft upon your courtesy too great, I will only say that the election of Representatives is to be ascertained in the same manner, 100 being the division, instead of eleven.

The object in view by this change is to enable the people to vote for who they please, independent of County Conventions which, even if composed of good men, as they are in the majority of cases, are neverthe less ruled and manipulated by small-fry politicians, whose knowledge only extends to going with their party, even if the party goes to the devil. Now, I am confined to what is oftentimes a choice between evils. I want to vote for who I please, without being driven hither and thither by men who are scarcely able to guide themselves and yet set themselves up to guide men of sense and principle.

Any one can see how such a system would increase the moral and intellectual gauge of our Legislative bodies, by giving a free choice all over the State; how members would be emancipated from local cliques; and how they would be impelled to strive for representation co-extensive with the State itself.

To a Legislature, so chosen, I would be willing to confide the power of electing the Governor, the Auditor General, the Surveyor General, and the State Treasurer, as well as all the Judges of all the Courts. For the first time in my life I was vexed at a defeat in politics, when I failed to secure a place upon our Convention ticket. I was anxious to be a member of that body in order to advocate this very reform. I was anxious to connect my humble name with a reform which I sincerely regard as one which would confer great good upon my native State. But man proposes and politicians dispose—to use an old proverb with a modern emendation.

Respectfully, A. W. Foster.

The abuses practiced by Mr. Butler have been corrected, and the affairs of the entire consulate have again assumed a reputable condition.

Ex-Queen Isabella of Spain still continues to figure in social life in Paris. A correspondent describes a grand birthday reception at her handsome abode in the Rue de Reservoirs, on which occasion about one hundred grandees of different nationalities gathered about the stout lady who is so remarkably ugly and uses a fan with such remarkable elegance.

It has been erroneously stated that the mother of General Meade was a Spanish lady. This is an error. She was Miss Butler, of Philadelphia, who married Richard W. Meade, and accompanied him to Spain on his receiving an appointment in the consular service of the United States. Thus, their son George Gordon Meade, was born at Cadiz in that country.

Miss Fannie Carson, of Iowa, is bolstered up as a shining example of her sex, because she went into her father's hay-fields in the capacity of Maud Miller; but, unlike that much quoted maiden, "she raked the meadows sweet with hay," until she had gathered forty tons. A Memphis paper says this was much better than "foolin' round with a rheumatic old judge."

A portrait of the Czar Alexander, of Russia, painted by his order as a present for Hon. A. G. Curtin, late United States Minister to St. Petersburg, is on exhibition at Philadelphia. The painter was G. Bothmann, the most famous artist of the Russian capital. The Emperor is in full uniform, and wears various decorations. The likeness is said to be perfect, and to bear a strong resemblance to the son of the Czar, the Grand Duke Alexis, who lately visited this country.

Madame Ottille Von Goethe, the widow of Goethe's only son, and a writer of ability, died on the 26th of October at Weimar, Saxony, at an advanced age. During the lifetime of her father-in-law she did the honors of the house, and presided at many a social gathering, marked by the presence of the most eminent authors, and politicians of the age. Goethe loved her as a daughter, and admired her writings, and at the time when she edited the Mitternacht Zeitung used to speak of her as one of the ablest critics of the age. She retained the vigor of her mental powers until her death, and was one of the most animated and amiable old ladies that could be met. Her husband lies buried in the Protestant burial ground at Rome, near the graves of Keats, and immediately next to the urn which contains the heart of Shelley.

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

A panther was seen in Meigsville township, Morgan county, Ohio, a few days ago.

Rich deposits of tin are reported to have been discovered within twenty miles of San Francisco.

Sundry females of very advanced views are trying to carry the divorce system to its legitimate conclusion, in Illinois, by establishing a community on the basis of polyandry, at Lone Prairie.

They feed strychnine instead of natives to tigers in the Indian jungles, at present. The change of diet does'nt agree with the tigers, however, and in every thicket they are to be found, retired from business, and dead.

Jeremiah Quire was instantly killed near Frankfort, Kentucky, last Thursday evening, by the rebound of a sapling upon which a tree he had just cut had lodged, and which he struck with an ax to disengage it.

The brother of a young girl, seduced and murdered by a man named Kruger, in Illinois, eight months ago, reached Kansas City, Missouri, last Friday, in search of the murderer, whom he has been after for six months.

A youth of fifteen years, named Irwin, attempted to board a passing freight train on the Dayton and Michigan Railroad, at Sidney, Ohio, Monday morning, and fell with both feet under the train, which were literally cut off at the ankle joints.

John Coon, one of the proprietors of a steam saw mill near Dayton, Ohio, was terribly mutilated while fileing a saw on Monday last. Some one turned on steam, and the saw nearly severed Coon's leg before his perilous situation was discovered.

The Owenton (Kentucky) News says: "Colby Hammonds, of this county, near Lusby's Mill, a few days ago found a tortoise, upon the carapax or top covering of which was cut, in plain letters, the name of Daniel Boone, and also the figures 1780."

All bets that Grant would get a larger majority in Illinois than Greeley would get in Missouri are won. Grant's majority in Illinois already reaches 50,000, with several Republican counties to hear from. Greeley's majority in Missouri is less than 34,000.

Near Knoxville, Tennessee, Saturday week, Mrs. Robert Campbell left her infant child with a nurse and went to a spring not far away, when upon returning, she found that the nurse had been seized with a fit, and, falling with the child into the fire, both were burned to death.

Fifty-one hours as the time of a week's labor is growing into popularity in Scotland. The Caledonian Railway at Perth, the Abroath Iron Foundry, and the great ship-builders, Messrs. Caird & Co., of Greenock, are among the latest employers to concede to this demand of their men.

Rosensweig, who caused the death of Alice Bowlsby and tried to ship her remains by railroad in a trunk, was sentenced last November for seven years. He has now been awarded a new trial on several legal exceptions to the admissibility of certain evidences as to previous offenses committed by Rozensweig.

Tennyson, in his last idyl, has exalted the snub nose in these lines:

> Lightly was her slender nose
> Tip-tilted like the petal of a flower.

"Tip-tilted" will henceforth take a prominent place in our language, and will come aptly to the aid of those who wish to describe a certain nasal formation without offense to the wearer.

The Parkersburg (West Virginia) Times and Gazette says: "On Friday evening last, as a lot of school children were returning home from a school-house in the vicinity of Campbell's Creek, a little girl was pushed by a schoolmate upon the track of the Campbell's Creek Coal Company and run over and killed by the locomotive, which was just then passing."

On Saturday a performing rhinoceros attached to Bailey's circus, New York, died of what is alleged to be epizootic. The immense carcass was taken to the morgue at Bellevue Hospital, and the medical staff held a post mortem. All the vital portions were found to be in healthy condition except the intestines, some of which were swollen to the size of a stovepipe.

A steam saw mill has been established at Pueblo Viejo, Jamaica, which requires to feed it three hundred men employed in the forests of Rio Fria cutting down cedars, mahogany, etc. A steam tug has been sent for to the United States to tow the rafts of timber to the mill. A cotton press is to be added to the machinery, as well as one for the extraction of the fibres from the plant called jenequen.

Several Columbus banks and capitalists have been victimized by Milton Fisher, residing about two miles south of Columbus, Ohio, by his forging indorsements to notes. The amount of his swindles is $5,200. Up to the time the rascality was discovered Fisher has enjoyed the full confidence of the community. He was always prompt in the settlement of business accounts, and an active member of the church.

A woman entered the house of a man named Ennis, at Memphis, a few nights ago, during the family's absence, and robbed it of three hundred dollars and upward. Assisted by two or three other women, who remained outside, she had climbed into a window, and, being greatly excited, did not miss her garter, which she left near a bureau within. This was given to a detective and convicted her.

In the small church belonging to the Monastery of St. Augustine, at Ramsgate, England, an imposing and significant ceremony has taken place. This was no less than the conferring a mitre on an Abbot, according to the ancient rite, which resembles in most respects the consecration of a bishop, and indeed has nearly the same effect. The event is noteworthy as being the first of its kind since the Reformation in England.

A Boston merchant having asked the question: "Who is responsible for the loss occasioned by the blowing up, with gunpowder, of the buildings in that city at the late fire?" the reply is made that the loss is precisely the same as if they had been burned. If the buildings blown up were at such a distance from the fire that it is doubtful if they would have burned, the city may be held responsible. An insurance case is quoted from Wendell's New York reports showing that the loss of buildings under such circumstances is loss by fire within the meaning of the policy of insurance.

Forty-four of the leading citizens of Cass County, Mo., have been indicted for participating in the tragic events which occurred in that locality last spring, when a Judge of the County Court, County Attorney Hines, and a Mr. Dutro were taken from a train and shot down in cold blood, for alleged connection with a fraudulent issue of county bonds. On Saturday thirty-six of the indicted parties appeared in Court and pleaded not guilty, and gave bonds to appear in February for trial. The balance, it is said, will soon report themselves.

We regret to see the following in the columns of the San Francisco Bulletin: "A scientific gentleman who gives much of his time to the investigation of the domestic habits of bugs and butterflies declares that he has discovered a remarkable fact in connection with eels. A stream which flows through his ranch abounds in eels, and he states that every evening, about dusk, these extraordinary fish leave the river to graze in the meadow. He says he intended to call the attention of Professor Agassiz to the fact, but could not leave the lower country until the great naturalist had departed."

A romantic and somewhat tragical event, involving love and possibly murder—a funeral and a marriage—is reported as having occurred in Lawrence, Kansas, last Wednesday. A young mulatto named William Drake, whose course of true love was somewhat roughened by the opposition of his proposed father-in-law, waylaid a funeral cortege on its return from the cemetery, and with the assistance of three of his brothers shot the old man, abducted the girl, took her to Lawrence, and was married in the street—the constable who had him in arrest kindly waiting until the ceremony was performed before taking the bridegroom to the calaboose. Jordan Cownch, the girl's father, is seriously wounded. Drake has evidently been a reader of dime novels, or he would have contrived some less sensational mode of getting possession of his sweetheart.

The natural history editor of the Lexington (Ky.) Press tells this: "A lady residing in a city not a hundred miles from Lexington is the possessor of two pets—a monkey and a parrot—who are by no means congenial friends; in fact Mrs. C. was in the habit of locking up the monkey whenever she left the house, for fear of his belligerent qualities. One evening, alas! she neglected to do so, and the monkey coming in found the parrot ready for fight, and a very desperate one ensued. The monkey ruthlessly pulled out every feather of the unfortunate parrot, and broke up the mantel ornaments, and smashed things generally. When Mrs. C. returned she found the monkey chattering on the mantelpiece, and out crept the parrot, looking deeply injured, and greeted her with: 'We've had a hell of a time.' The appropriateness of the remark caused a shout of laughter."

LATEST FRENCH HORROR.

A Young Woman Atrociously Murdered by Her Parents.

Writing from Paris on Nov. 5, the correspondent of the London Daily News says: "A trial has just taken place before the Court of Assizes of the Loiret, the details of which are worthy of occupying a conspicuous place among the records of those causes celebres which are so familiar to readers of peculiarly French horrors. The tragedy which formed the subject of investigation took place in May last, at a small farm called Herbago, near Mareau-aux-Pres; the victim was a young man of twenty-eight, and her murderers were her parents. The atrocious circumstances under which the crime was committed are amply indicated in the following brief extract from the acle d' accusation, which refers to the discovery of the body of Elizabeth Durand in a field close to her own home:

"This unfortunate young woman, (it says,) abandoned by her father, ill-treated by her step-mother, compelled to beg food during the greater portion of her existence, was the victim of a crime unprecedented in its cruelty. Her stomach had been ripped open by a blunt instrument, and the intestines, when the body was found, protruded through a gaping wound; the mouth was filled with earth and gravel; the face, the neck, the breast, and shoulders were covered with wounds; and the murderers, finding that they had not succeeded in dispatching their victim speedily enough, strangled her, after having hacked her about in the most brutal and revolting manner. Under her feet, (which were tied together,) a grave had been dug, into which the body was thrown after the crime had been perpetrated."

The step-mother, realizing the enormity of the crime, and fearful of the fate which awaited her on its disclosure, committed suicide by hanging herself on the night of the 24th of May. The police distinguishing some connection between this suicide and the sudden disappearance of Elizabeth Durand, at once arrested the father of the victim, and, on questioning the youthful son and daughter, who witnessed the crime, were informed as to the whereabouts of the body, which was discovered on the 31st. The evidence given before the court by the brother (a mere stripling) of the victim was such as, the reports of the proceedings tell us, made the flesh of the audience creep. The principal author of the crime, however—namely, the father—although found guilty without extenuating circumstances, escaped the capital sentence, and was condemned to penal servitude for life."

The question of women riding astride of horses seems not to be set at rest yet. No less a lady than Grace Greenwood confesses to having tried it in her recent travels in California, and to having liked it, too. She says: "After a trial of some fifteen miles one day and twenty-six the second, we all came to the conclusion that this style of riding is the safest, easiest, and, therefore, the most sensible for long mountain expeditions and for steep, rough, and narrow trails. If nature intended women to ride horseback at all, she doubtless intended it should be after this fashion; otherwise we should have been a sort of land variety of the mermaid."

Most Important Notice.

We publish below the testimonial of Mr. James Irvin, one of our best known citizens, and a gentleman whose word may be confidently relied on, to the efficacy of Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, a cheap medicine for coughs and recent long diseases, which Dr. K. has prepared expressly to meet the thousands of cases that are heard coughing daily through our streets, every one of which could be cured in less than forty-eight hours, and at a cost of 75 cents. Who would cough through seventy-five hours at a cent an hour, when Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup is as sure to cure them as night follows day.

Dr. Keyser:—You have asked my opinion about your cough medicine, and I can cheerfully say that I have used your Pectoral Syrup on one occasion during last spring. I thought at one time that I was surely going to have some serious pulmonary disease, as I coughed up large quantities of matter. I found my disease would not yield to anything else, as I had tried various remedies and several of the best doctors without benefit. After the first dose of your Pectoral, I received quite a relief, and had I not used the whole bottle until I was entirely cured.

PROCLAMATION.

City of Pittsburgh, ss.

I, JAMES BLACKMORE, Mayor of the City of Pittsburgh, do issue this my Proclamation, that on the FIRST TUESDAY IN DECEMBER A. D. 1872, being the 3d day of the month, the freemen of said city, qualified to vote for members of the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth, will meet at their several places of holding elections in their respective wards, and elect by ballot the following members of Select and Common Councils, also one person from each ward as a member of the Board of Revision.

The electors of the First ward, city of Pittsburgh, to meet at the Public School House in said ward, and elect one member of Select Council and one member of Common Council.

The electors of the Second ward, of the city of Pittsburgh, to meet at the Public School House in said ward, and elect one member of Select Council and one member of Common Council.

The electors of the Third ward of the city of Pittsburgh, to meet at Controller's office, in Municipal Hall, in said ward, and elect one member of Select Council and one member of Common Council.

The electors of the Fourth ward of the city of Pittsburgh, to meet at the Public School House in said ward, and elect one member of the Select Council and one member of Common Council.

The electors of the Fifth ward of the city of Pittsburgh, to meet at the office of the Clerk of the Courts, formerly office of Orphans' Court, in Court House, in said ward, and elect one member of Select Council and one member of Common Council.

The electors of the Sixth ward of the city of Pittsburgh, to meet at the Public School House in said ward, and elect one member of Select Council and two members of Common Council.

ALLEGHENY COUNTY, ss.—THE Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, to the Sheriff of said county greeting: Whereas, the City of Pittsburgh, did on the 3d day of April, 1872, file in the District Court in and for the county of Allegheny, a claim for the sum of ninety-four dollars and fifty-cents, ($94.50) with interest from Dec. 11th, 1872, and five per cent. additional thereto, attorney's commission for collection, against all that certain lot of ground in the 11th ward of the City of Pittsburgh, situate on the north side of Reed street, fronting on said street 20 feet and running back about 90 feet, and bounded and described as follows, to wit: beginning on the north side of Reed street at a point 89 feet from Overhill street; thence along Reed street towards Roberts 20 feet to a point, and extending back about 90 feet, preserving the same width, of which the owner is unknown. Said claim being the assessment against the said premises for the cost and expense of grading, paving and setting with curb stones, that part of Reed street, extending from Colwell street to Overhill street. And whereas the said plaintiffs claim to have a lien on said premises, for the said sum of $94.50, with the interest and commissions aforesaid, which still remain due and unpaid to said plaintiff. Now we command you, that you make known to the said unknown owner that he be and appear before our Judges of our said Court at a District Court to be held the 4TH MONDAY OF NOVEMBER, 1872, to show if anything he know or has to say, why the said sums should not be levied on said premises, according to the form and effect of the Act of Assembly in such case made and provided, if to them it shall seem expedient; and have you then and there this writ.

Witness the Hon. M. Hampton, President of our said Court at Pittsburgh, the 17th day of October, A. D. 1872.

DAILY GAZETTE.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 20, 1872.

The cold, bracing atmosphere of to-day had no bad effect either in local money matters or the horse disease. More horses were seen on the streets to-day than there have been for the past two weeks, and more loans were made by the banks than there have been for a much greater length of time. The prospect that there is before long going to be a sufficiency of funds to meet all legitimate demands before the year closes up, becomes more assured, and the hopes that Congress will immediately on assembling go to work in earnest and do something worthy of the representatives of a great people in the way of giving relief and stability to financial matters, increase confidence and prevent men from losing their wits and borrowing or trying to borrow money in November to pay obligations maturing in the latter part of December. Manufacturers are getting to the wall just as fast as they can without sacrifice to do so, and the amount of men hunting employment on the streets of this city was larger to-day than it has been since the close of the war, and before winter is well-nigh half over it is thought that the number of people unable to obtain regular and constant employment will be largely increased. Prompt and correct action on the part of Congress will do much to alleviate impending troubles to the laboring people, and might in a great measure prevent them. Temporary relief is what is necessary now. Then, time could be had during the winter to mature and adjust measures for permanent good. Hasty legislation, save to bridge over an emergency, is at all times to be deprecated. Whatever alterations are made in the financial bearings of the Government ought to have all the consideration that the members of Congress are capable of giving them. Some propose a free banking law. Indeed, a large number of the business men of the country, who have given thought to the matter, believe that it is just what is wanted. Others seem to think that an increase in the volume of greenbacks would answer the purpose better, but it will take weeks to arrive at a conclusion as to what is best for permanent good; whereas an order for the re-issue of the retired currency could be brought up and passed by Congress within a week's time after the organization is complete.

The Philadelphia Ledger of Tuesday says: The banks are pretty well drained all the time of their cash means to meet the legitimate business demands of their customers, but they generally come so near it as to prevent any great deal of trouble or any very high rates on the street: that is, where the credit of the paper and of the borrowers is really unquestioned the rates are reasonable. Call loans range at from 6 to 7½ per cent., and good commercial at all points from 7 to 10 per cent. Not well approved paper is quoted at from 1 to 2 per cent. a month.

NEW YORK, November 20, 1872.

Money, which was very stringent during the morning, call loans being done at ⅛ per day, declined to 7 gold on the acceptance of two millions bonds by the Treasury; subsequently advanced to 1-32 per day, but closed at 5@7 per cent. Discounts were close, 12 per cent. being the inside rate for prime. Sterling firmer under an improved demand and decreased supply; 60 days' 108¼@108¾; sight 110. Gold quiet and heavy; fell to 113¼, advanced to 113⅜, again declined, closing at 113@113⅛. Loans 5@7 gold for carrying, and 1-32 for a small lot. Clearings $63,000,000. Treasury disbursements $402,700. Exports of specie $99,000 silver bars. It is reported that the Government has called in for to-morrow ten per cent. of the four millions of greenbacks recently placed on deposit with National banks. Governments quiet and steady. The Treasury purchases will all be paid for in legal tenders. State bonds dull and steady, with Tennessees very strong. Stocks were generally strong throughout the day. Pacific Mail advanced from 86⅛ to 89 on the news of the safety of the Arizona. Northwestern common advanced from 83⅛ to 95, with much activity and excitement in dealings, the stock being reported cornered. Western Union advanced from 75⅛ to 76⅝. Ohios from 44⅝ to 45⅛, Rock Island from 107⅞ to 108⅝. Lake Shore from 88 to 88⅝, and Erie from 52⅛ to 53⅛. The other fluctuations were small. The market closed dull, and, except Northwestern, a trifle off from the best rates, but generally steady.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 20, 1872.

APPLES.—We can report a steady demand and regular sales, but there is no change in prices, $2,00@2,50 per bbl.

APPLE BUTTER—45@50 cts per gallon.

BEANS—$2,50@3 per bushel.

BUCKWHEAT FLOUR—Is quoted at $8@8½ per bbl. or 4 to 4½c per lb.

BUTTER—There is a continued good demand for prime to choice roll, and prices are firm but unchanged, 25@28 cts.

CANDLES—Mould, 12; Stearine, 15; Star, 22.

CARBON OIL—Standard brands, 23¼@23½ for round lots, and 1@2 cts additional in a small way.

CHESTNUTS—$3,50@4 per bushel.

CIDER—Is dull, but nominally unchanged; $5@6 per bbl.

COUNTRY LARD—7¼@8¼ cts. per lb.

CRANBERRIES—Sackett's and Carey's Belle Berries, $14@15 per bbl. common, $10@12.

CONCENTRATED LYE—$8 per case.

CHEESE—The best brands of Goshen are still quoted at 15¼@17 cents. Ohio Sweitzer, 15½@16½.

DRIED FRUIT—There is but little inquiry for dried fruit of any kind, and prices are nominal at 4@6 cts for Apples, and 7@8 cts for halve Peaches.

EGGS—There is a fair demand, but prices remain unchanged; 32 for fresh, guaranteed, and 25@30 for limed, according to quality.

FEATHERS—No. 1 live geese may be quoted at 72 to 75 to the trade and 3 to 5c additional for smaller lots.

FLOUR—Spring wheat flours are firmer, in sympathy with the advance in wheat, though prices are unchanged, ranging from $7,50@8, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas. Red winter wheats steady at $8,00@8,50. Rye Flour, $5,25@5,50.

GRAIN—There is but little doing in any kind of Grain, and the market in a general way presents nothing important excepting that an increased demand soon is anticipated. Wheat is quiet and prices are nominally unchanged; $1,60@1,65 for red; $1,70@1,75 for amber, and $1,80@1,85 for white. Oats continue dull, but as the receipts are light and stocks somewhat reduced, there is no disposition to force sales, and prices are unchanged; 38@41 for mixed to prime white. Shelled Corn is in limited supply, and a shade firmer in consequence, but prices remain unchanged; 56 to 58c. Rye is still quotable at 78 to 80, and Barley at 80 to 85 for common to fair and 90 to 95 for prime to choice.

GROCERIES—Trade continues quiet, and the market is devoid of a single new feature worthy of special notice.

SUGARS—Granulated, 13¾; Crushed, 13⅜c Powdered, 13¾; A Coffee, 13; B, 12¾; Ex. C 12¾; C., 12¾; Chespeake Ex. C, 12¾; Molasses Sugars, 8½@10; Porto Rico, 10¾@11; Demarara, 11¼@11¾.

COFFEE—Choice Rio 23; Prime 22; Good 21; Fair 20; Java 25 to 26; Mocha 32. Roasted in lb. packages 25; loose 24½.

RICE—Carolina, 8½@9; Rangoon, 7@7¾; Patna 8.

SPICES—Grain Pepper, 23; Allspice, 18; Cassia, 40; Clover, 30; Nutmegs, $1,25.

HAY—Baled is still quoted on wharf and track, at $25@30 per ton according to quality and condition, in small lots, $2@3 additional. Demand continues very good, at least it is so reported.

HONEY—Sales 25@30 cts per lb.

LARD OIL—No. 1 winter strained 78@80 cts, and scarce.

ONIONS—In good supply and quoted at $2,50@3 per bushel.

POTATOES—Prime Peach Blows, by the car load, 70 cts per bushel: small lots in store, 75. Sweet firmer but unchanged; $3,50@4 per bbl.

POULTRY—Live chickens, 50@60 cents per pair; dressed, 12@14 cts. per lb.

PROVISIONS—Plain Shoulders, 7½; Sugar cured Shoulders, 10c; Breakfast Bacon, 14c; Rib Sides, 11; Short Rib Sides, 11¼; Clear Sides, 12; Sugar Cured Hams, 17¼c; Dried Beef, 18 c. Lard, in tierces, 9¼c; half bbls, 10¼c; pails, 11c. Mess Pork, $15,50; Beef Tongues, 7,50 per dozen.

RAGS—Quoted at 3¼@3¾ cts.

SEEDS—Flax Seed, $1,95 per bushel.

WHISKY—Highwines unchanged; 93@95 cts. per gallon.

TALLOW—Unchanged at 8 to 8½.

WOOL—There is, as noticed in our last report, nothing doing in our market. The New York Times, of Tuesday, says: Desirable grades of both domestic and foreign, especially the latter, have been in brisk demand, at very strong and advancing prices. Holders have been quite reserved in their offerings of stock, and have been claiming a further improvement of 4 to 5c. per lb, which operated, to some extent, against free dealings. Manufacturers have shown more eagerness to purchase, though reluctant to pay the extreme asking rates. The trade call has also been more satisfactory. The Boston reports are of an excited, higher and irregular market, with dealers asking in many instances, an advance of 10 to 15c per lb. on the prices current before the great fire.

LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CENTRAL STOCK YARD, EAST LIBERTY, WEDNESDAY, November 20, 1872.

CATTLE.

The supply to-day was very full, considerably in excess of the same time last week, and while there was a full attendance of buyers, trade was very slow, and the general tone of the market weaker, in consequence of unfavorable advices from New York. In regard to prices there was a diversity of feeling among dealers; some salesmen quoted a decline of from 25 to 50 cts. per cwt; others, while conceding that the feeling was weaker and business very dull, contended that there was as compared with last week no change. Both Philadelphia and New York were pretty fully represented, and there are about the usual number of country buyers in attendance, but they are all inclined to be bearish, and are holding off in hopes of forcing a decline; whether they will succeed or not it is difficult at this writing to determine, but the indications are that unless the arrivals should continue large during the next two days, which is hardly probable, that last week's prices will be sustained, particularly for the better grades. At noon to-day, however, the pens were nearly full, and as already intimated there were but few selling—buyers were very "bearish," alleging that prices were too high here to admit of successful shipment east, and a strong effort is being made to break the market, but we do not believe that it will succeed for the reason that holders are pretty stiff, and, as a general thing, will ship on further east before they would make any material concession.

Quotations may be fairly given as follows:

Extra 1,400 to 1,500 steers	7 00@7 25
Prime 1,200@1,300 steers	6 50@6 75
Good 1,000@1,100 steers	5 75@6 25
Bulls	2 50@3 00
Good to prime oxen 1,200@1,500	5 00@7 00
Stock steers 900@1,000 lbs	3 50@4 00

There were several lots of fancy stock on sale, some of which changed hands; one bunch of extra southern Ohio steers, averaging 1,600 lbs, brought 7½ cents; and another bunch, still better, brought close on to 8 cents; these, however, are fancy prices, and are no criterion of the market.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The "run" up to noon to-day was reported larger than during the same time last week, and scarcely as good in point of quality; however, with an increased demand, trade, particularly for the better grades, is fairly active, and prices are quoted 15 to 20 cts higher. There was a good demand yesterday and to-day for shipment to both Philadelphia and New York, and hence, notwithstanding the increased receipts, there were but few in the pens at noon to-day unsold; however, the Philadelphia men seemed to have about all they wanted, and if the receipts should be as large to-night and to-morrow as they were yesterday and to-day, which is scarcely probable, prices will, in all probability, drop to the extent of the advance above noted. There were several bunches of very fine sheep, and, as might be expected, they brought fancy prices. Pierce, of Philadelphia, bought one lot (fine wool) averaging 165 lbs at 6¼; and Erisman paid 6½ for another lot, averaging 120 lbs, to go to New York. Lambs—Erisman bought one bunch, weighing about 80 lbs, said to be the best put on sale in this market for many a day, at 7¾ and the same buyer paid 6¾ for another lot weighing 67 lbs. Quotations may be given as follows:

Fine wool, 100@110 lbs	6 00@6 25
" " 90@95 lbs	5 55@5 75
" " 80@85 lbs	5 00@5 25
" " 70@75 lbs	4 00@4 50
Scalawags, per head	$1 00@2 00
Lambs	5 00@7 00

HOGS.

The arrivals have been unusually large during the past two days, and there was no indication at noon to-day of any falling off during the next day or two to come; with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, shippers generally buying sparingly, the market is dull and weak, and during the past twenty-four hours prices have dropped from 10@20 cts per cwt, and it is possible that the bottom has not yet been reached. The Philadelphia shippers are feeble in their buying, being apprehensive, we presume, of a movement from Baltimore similar to that of last week, and the Yorkers are not much better. The packers are taking a few, but not enough, in the present condition of affairs, to have any great influence on the market; hence, at this writing, with the pens full and continued liberal receipts and unfavorable advices from the east, the situation is not very encouraging for holders, and no improvement is likely until there is a material falling off in the arrivals, and the supply considerably reduced. Quotations may be given as follows:

Prime Philadelphia hogs	4 45@4 50
Prime Yorkers	4 20@4 25
Nice Shoats, 130@150 lbs	4 50@4 60

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, November 20, 1872.

Trade continues very quiet so far, at least, as this market is concerned, but hopes of an early improvement are entertained. Crude was quoted at Parker at $4,17½@4,20—the agency price remains unchanged at $4,55, but, of course, this is a nominal quotation, and has an existence only in name. Refined is quiet and unchanged; nominally, 26¼@27, delivered in Philadelphia, and 23¼@23½ on cars here.

Barrels unchanged; city make, $2,15; country, $2,05@2,10.

Chicago Provisions Market—Alleged Manipulation.

The Tribune of Tuesday says: Provisions were more active, and a shade firmer, though live hogs were quoted steady at Saturday's prices, and in rather small supply for the season. Buyers were not urgent, but they were willing to pay a little better prices, especially on pork as if they suspected that the combination to force down quotations on hogs is likely to be overdone. It has been the policy of the circulars that are run in the interests of the packers, for years past, to try to bear at the commencement of the season, and to bull at the end. Like the boy in the fable, they have cried "wolf" so often that now nobody takes any notice of it; and it is charged that the packers have taken hold of the matter for themselves, and are trying to force, where they cannot persuade. It is stated that in some places the packers have united so far as to appoint one man as buyer, who apportions his purchases among the combination according to the extent of the facilities of each for handling the hogs. Of course, the expected effect of this arrangement is to cut off competition among buyers, and thus keep down prices to a minimum. It is not impossible that the hog shippers will find themselves obliged to meet fire with fire, and unite upon one agent at each packing point; and that they are keeping back their consignments till such an arrangement can be effected. The next thing we hear of may be that the hogs have met in convention and resolved that they will "increase and multiply" for sale at such prices as are offered by the packers. In that case the Montreal combination might chant their Jubilate, they can scarcely do it in any other event. Seriously, these attempts at combining are seldom successful, and always result in mischief—they are but corners in another shape. In the present instances, buyers of lard and meats have held off till they could see the market touch bottom, and they will probably not take hold extensively till the question is settled, if that should take all winter.

RIVER NEWS.

The river continues to recede steadily at this point, with three feet ten inches in the channel last evening. The weather continues cloudy and cold, and the indications are that navigation will soon be suspended in consequence of low water and ice combined—another day or two like yesterday will fill the river full of floating ice.

The Carrie Brooks, from Wheeling, arrived and departed.

Capt. Brennan has very wisely concluded to defer the departure of the Juniata until there is more water, and it is not likely that the Messenger will get out for St. Louis before there is a rise. Boats cannot take out paying trips on the present water, and it won't pay to go with half a one. Both of these boats, however, will continue to receive freight, but with the understanding that they will not get out until there is more water.

Business continues dull at the landing, and no improvement need be looked for until there is a rise, of which there is not much prospect at this writing.

—The steamer Hesper, recently sunk in Red River, was built in 1865 for Capt. Sam Houston, and ran in the Arkansas River one year. During that time she was twice seized by the United States Marshall, at Fort Smith, for smuggling whisky into the Indian nations, and had to pay heavy fines for her release. She still belonged to Houston in 1867, when she was Kukluxed while carrying arms from Memphis to Little Rock, after which time Houston sold her to Capt. Jas. Lee.

—Captains Dugan, of the Eckert, and Woodburne, of the St. Marys, both despair of being able to get the latter vessels afloat again. Owing to the depth she has sunk, it would cost more than she is worth to make the trial, and it is probable that she will be wrecked where she lies.

—The Kansas City Journal of Saturday says: "The anchor ice began running in the river last night about 8 o'clock, indicating severe weather above. Should the weather continue as cold as at present the river will be blocked and frozen by the accumulation of the anchor ice in a few days."

—The last boat on the Upper Mississippi last season was the Viola, which passed Burlington, going down Nov. 20. The ice commenced running Nov. 22, and on the 29th, at 8 o'clock in the morning, the river closed.

—A large amount of corn is awaiting southern shipment from Madrid Bend above Memphis, and several downward bound steamers have been obliged to decline taking it on account of full cargoes and low water.

—The engineers of the elevator at Vicksburg have completed a new system of gearing on the upper leg of the elevator, which runs it much faster than the former gearing, and that without shaking the building as the others do.

—The St. Louis Democrat says: Three nymphs du pave were refused passage to St. Louis on the Western at Sioux City. The clerk was appealed to, and then Capt. Coulson. Both are discreet, and refused to come to terms.

—Capt. Wm. Whiting has been appointed shipping commissioner for the port of New Orleans by the United States Circuit Court of that city.

—The Katie is lying at the bank at Helena. All her cotton has been put on board, and it is expected she will be towed to New Orleans in a few days for repairs.

—Capt. Wm. B. Donaldson, formerly a boatman on the Ohio, and in St. Louis and New Orleans trade, is now a resident of California.

—Captain Ed Dix shot a Wm. Estlin, at St. Louis on Monday. The quarrel is said to have been brought about during a game of dominoes.

—The Miner and Silver Lake have arrived at Sioux City.

of Venereal, Private and Nervous disease at the old established Girard Medical Institute, No. 172 Second avenue, between Smithfield and Grant streets, Pittsburgh, Pa.

NO CHARGE UNTIL CURED.

Syphilis, Stricture, Orchitis, Hernia and all Urinary diseases are cured in the shortest possible time that will insure permanent relief. Spermatorrhoea, or Seminal weakness and impotency, as the result of self-abuse or excess in maturer years, and which produce some of the following effects, as emissions, blotches, debility, dizziness, nervousness, dimness of sight, cough, indigestion, constipation, despondency, confusion of ideas, aversion to society, loss of memory, and sexual power, and which unfits the victim for business or marriage, and ultimately causing insanity and consumption, are thoroughly and permanently cured. Medicines supplied at the Institute. A medical pamphlet relating to private diseases sent in sealed envelope for two stamps. All communications confidential. This Institute was established for the express purpose of supplying the afflicted with scientific and reliable treatment, and is not to be classed with the numerous quacks and impostors that infest all large cities. The proprietors have made the treatment of Private and special diseases the study of their lives, and can refer to thousands all over the country that have been benefitted and cured by their treatment. No matter how difficult or long standing your case may be, if curable, after a personal examination they will frankly tell you; remember, they have cured many cases given up by other physicians. Patients treated by mail or express, but where possible, it is best to visit the city for personal consultation, or address: GIRARD MEDICAL INSTITUTE, No. 172 Second avenue, Pittsburgh, Pa. Office hours 9 A. M. to 7 P. M. Sundays by appointment.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—OFFICE 194 PENN STREET, next door to the St. Clair Hotel. For treatment of all diseases of a private nature in from two to four days, by an entirely new and safe treatment. Also seminal weakness, impotency, and all other diseases of the genital organs, and their prostration. A cure warranted, or money refunded. His Diploma in the office, and is a regular physician of 20 years standing in this city, and has cured over 10,000 cases. For circulars, etc. address DOCTOR W., 194 Penn street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Office hours from 8 to 12 M., from 1 to 3, and 6 to 8 P. M., Sundays excepted. fe27:113

ON MARRIAGE—HAPPY RELIEF for Young Men from the effects of Errors and Abuses in early life. Manhood restored. Impediments to marriage removed. New method of treatment. New and remarkable remedies. Books and Circulars sent free in sealed envelopes. Address HOWARD ASSOCIATION, No. 2 South Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa. au10:w58-d&S

MANHOOD! WOMANHOOD! "Books for the Million!" Who may marry who not. Why? Impediments, causes and cure. Every father, mother, young man and young woman should read them. 100 pages. Sent in SEALED ENVELOPE; 15 cents each; both for 25 cents. Address DR. WHITTIER, 236 Penn street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

CAUTION!—LEA & PERRINS' WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE.—Buyers are cautioned to avoid the numerous Counterfeits and Imitations offered for sale. JOHN DUNCAN'S SONS, New York, Agents for the United States. oct7:b69-TTHS

HOME NEWS.

Ayers Latin School.

Examination of classes in this institution for the month of November will be held to-morrow (Friday) morning, commencing at nine o'clock. Committee: Rev. Joseph Milligan, S. M. Raymond, Esq., Colonel A. S. M. Morgan, Alexander Nimick, W. A. McClurg, J. L. Marshall, H. F. Mann.

The Way They Go.

Our friend W. George Gibson, Esq., the popular and efficient freight agent for several years of the C. & P. and P. Ft. W. & C. Railroad Companies in Allegheny, like a sensible man, as he is, entered into marriage relations on Tuesday with a most estimable lady, whom we congratulate on being the choice of so worthy a gentleman.

Slight Fire.

The alarm sounded at half past five o'clock last evening from box 46, corner of Fifth and Craft avenues, was caused by a fire in the house of John Munford, on Fifth avenue, near the Oakland brewery. The fire originated in the bed-room, and the bed was destroyed; but little other damage was done. The house is owned by John Bryan.

Anniversary Meeting.

To-night at the Third Presbyterian Church, the Young Men's Christian Association, of the city, hold their anniversary meeting; we trust that there will be a good turn-out of all those interested in the Association and its work, as the meeting will without doubt be an interesting one. For the accommodation of persons living along the line of the P. R. R., the superintendent, Mr. Pitcairn, has consented to run a special train, leaving Union Depot at close of meeting, and running as far as East Liberty.

The Unterrified.

Yesterday morning at eleven o'clock the Democratic City Committee held a meeting at the St. Charles Hotel, for the purpose of adopting some measure whereby the vote of the party might be brought out at the city election in December. Chas. Magee, Esq., the Chairman of the committee, presided, and Mr. Chas. B. Strain acted as temporary secretary. A resolution was passed instructing the chairman to appoint members of the committee from the new wards, and also advising the nomination of tickets in all the wards for the December elections.

Bitten by a Dog.

On Tuesday afternoon a little girl living at Homewood, was attacked and severely bitten by a ferocious dog. The child screamed for help, and her mother ran to her assistance. With a club she attempted to beat the dog off, but this only enraged the animal the more, and it immediately turned upon the lady. Before further assistance arrived she was badly injured by the teeth of the animal. Finally, a gentleman who heard the cries for help, succeeded in beating the dog off. The woman and the child were attended to by Dr. Clark, and are now doing well, though the injuries of the little girl are very severe. The dog was afterwards shot and killed by his owner.

Indisputable.

"In my estimation, Granite, both foreign and domestic, is the material par excellence for monumental purposes, both for looks and durability."

JOHN CHISLETT,
Supt. Allegheny Cemetery.

The largest and finest display of Scotch and American Granite Monumental Work to be found in the two cities is at the wareroom and yard of Messrs. Dodds & Caskey, corner Penn avenue and Thirty-second street, Pittsburgh. They also have a large assortment of new and elegant designs. Orders for work wanted in the spring and summer should be placed now. Call and see them. The utmost pains taken to please and satisfy patrons.

The Case of John McGinniss.

A case is now being tried in the Court of Common Pleas, to which is attached considerable interest; we refer to that of John McGinniss, an elderly man, about seventy-five years of age, who is the defendant in a suit brought by his wife and children, to have his property taken from his hands and placed in the charge of a commissioner. The defendant owns valuable land in the vicinity of Walls station, on the Pennsylvania railroad, valued at between three and four hundred thousand dollars. It is alleged that the excessive use of strong drink has unfitted the defendant for properly managing his estate, and for this reason it is demanded that the property should be placed in the hands of a commissioner.

Laing & McKallip.

We took occasion once before to speak of the enterprising and accommodating character of this firm, whose warehouses and counting rooms are at Nos. 347, 411 and 413 Liberty street. The season of the year makes it proper to refer just now, to the anthracite coal department of their business. For two years past they have been bringing from the east large quantities of the best varieties of this coal, their custom for which, owing to its great superiority to other coal, for various domestic uses, has rapidly increased. They have large facilities for receiving and storing and also for promptly delivering the coal in any quantity desired. The very many in Pittsburgh and Allegheny who use anthracite coal are advised to call on Laing & McKallip, and learn for themselves that it is the best place to procure their supplies.

Opposed to Division.

A meeting of the citizens of the Seventeenth ward was held on Tuesday evening at the Washington school house, for the purpose of protesting against the division of the ward into two precincts. On motion, Mr. Smith was called to the Chair, and G. R. Pearson as Secretary. Mr. Smith stated in a few remarks the object of the meeting.

On motion of T. R. Sill:

Resolved, That the members of Select Council from the Seventeenth ward be, and are hereby instructed to have the ordinance dividing said ward into two precincts repealed.

After a full discussion by Jas. Campbell, J. W. Riddell, Dr. Covert, Jas. Essler, Buffum and others, the resolution was adopted almost unanimously.

Stolen Goods.

About six o'clock last evening Detective Pender noticed a suspicious looking character on Webster avenue, carrying a large bundle. The Detective kept his eye on him, and the man walked up onto Wylie avenue, and went into a second-hand clothing store, where he opened his bundle and exposed a large quantity of clothing for sale. The Detective arrested him and took him to the Mayor's office. He had the following list of clothes with him, which he said he had purchased for $2.25: one lady's barred shawl, one bolster case, two floss worked chemises, one piece pantaloon stuff, one piece of black doeskin, one shirt and piece of gray cloth. The man gave his name as John Syne, and was placed in the lockup for a hearing.

Generous.

It will be remembered that the cars on the three branches of the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Manchester Passenger Railway were removed two weeks ago yesterday, on account of the epizootic, and of course a large number of conductors and drivers were thrown out of employment. They remained without work for eleven days, expecting every day that the cars would resume. Last week the men were employed but three days, and at the end of the week Commodore W. J. Kountz, the President of the road, very generously paid each of them ten dollars for his three days' work, that they might have enough to pay for their board during the two weeks they were idle. The kindness of the President was duly appreciated by the employees.

Badly Burned.

A little daughter of Mr. John Ulrich, who lives at the corner of James and Second streets, Allegheny, was very badly burned yesterday morning, though her injuries are not considered fatal. About eight o'clock Mrs. Ulrich had occasion to go out on the street, and the child, who is seven years of age, was left alone in the room. A few minutes later the mother heard the screams of the little girl, and rushing into the room found her clothes in flames. She hastily seized a blanket and smothered the flames, but not before the unfortunate child was very badly burned about the lower limbs and body. A physician was summoned, and the little sufferer received every attention possible. It is supposed that the clothes of the child caught fire from the grate. Last evening she seemed much easier, and it is thought that she will recover.

DROPPED DEAD.

Sad Occurrence on the South Side.

Last evening some excitement was created in Brownstown (South Side) by the announcement that a well known citizen, Mr. Wm. Ervin, had died suddenly. Mr. Ervin was employed at the American Iron works, having the position of head or "Boss" watchman. He appeared in his usual health yesterday, and after supper went on duty at the mill, and while going his rounds, suddenly dropped to the ground. He was observed by some of the men in the mill, who ran to his relief, but he was motionless when they reached him, and before medical aid could be had life was extinct. The cause of his death was heart disease.

A FATAL FALL.

An Intoxicated Man Killed at a Stone Quarry.

On Tuesday afternoon James Donavan met with a frightful death at George McComb's stone quarry, at the head of Hiland avenue, in the Nineteenth ward. The deceased was employed at the quarry, and lived a short distance above it on the hill. On Tuesday evening, between six and seven o'clock, he was seen walking up the hill on his way home, slightly intoxicated. After this nothing was seen of him until yesterday morning, when his body was found at the bottom of the hill, in a horribly mangled condition, having fallen a distance of thirty-eight feet.

Coroner West was summoned, and yesterday afternoon held an inquest upon the remains, and the jury returned a verdict of accidental death. The deceased was forty-eight years of age and a native of Ireland. He leaves a wife and eight children. The jury recommended that the owner of the quarry put a fence around it in order to prevent further accidents.

The cold snap that we are now enjoying reminds us of our duty, and tells us to prepare for winter. Our lady readers will find a splendid assortment of Sacques and Talmas, Silk, Velvet, Velveteens and Beaver cloth, suitable for making warm garments, at H. J. Lynch's, 96 Market street. The goods were received yesterday by Mr. Lynch, and cannot fail to suit those in need of them. Mr. Lynch has also received a large variety of Country Blankets, Shawls and Dry goods, which will be opened ready for inspection to-day. The character of the house is so well known to all, it would be useless for us to say, you will find everything as represented. Remember, 96 Market street is his number.

"THE GLASS."

Another Conference on the Observatory Glass—The "Hearing" Last Night—A Lively Colloquy Between the Lawyers—A Sudden Ending of a Fraternal Scene.

The "Observatory glass robbery" formed the subject for another little scene at the Allegheny Mayor's office last evening. The particular way in which the matter was brought to the surface this time was by an information which Chief Clark preferred against the man Shaw for receiving stolen goods. At seven o'clock there were indications of a gathering, and at half-past seven His Honor, Mayor Callow, took the throne in the front office, flanked on either side by reporters—just six in all. An equal number of gentlemen learned in legal lore, gave variety to the throng outside the bar, which embraced a sprinkling of Councilmen, several city officials, a full corps of police, and a filling in of spectators. Mr. Moore, who appeared for the plaintiff, serenely reclined in a chair to the right, Mr. Johnston for the defendant faced him from the left and between the legal twain was left by courtesy sufficient "standing room only" for the defendant. A faint gas light and a smoky stove furnished the proper wierd accompaniments to the scene. The services were commenced by the calling of Chief Clark to the stand, but before he had gotten under way, counsel for plaintiff, seized with a new idea, called for Chief Irwin of Pittsburgh. That official, with a bland smile stepped forward, meekly folded his arms, took a cursory glance at the ceiling, then at the floor, and finally fixed his benignant gaze upon the magistrate directly in front of him. He was sworn, and the colloquy commenced.

Counsellor Moore, (with grave deliberation)—Mr. Irwin, will you please state now, all that you know concerning this Observatory robbery as it is called.

Chief Irwin, (mildly)—Well, no sir, I can't state all I know. I'll tell anything I know concerning Mr. Shaw's connection with the case.

Counsellor Moore, (mystified and surprised—You can't what?

Chief Irwin—I can't tell all I know, but will tell anything about Mr. Shaw's connection with the case.

Counsellor Moore, (faintly seeing a light)—Do I, sir, understand you to say you won't tell all you know; that you propose only to answer questions directly affecting Shaw?

Chief Irwin, (serenely)—That's what I'm here for. I can't state anything unless in direct regard to this case of Shaw,—this charge against him of receiving stolen goods.

Counsellor Moore, (amazed)—Do I clearly understand that you will not answer my question?

Counsellor Johnston (interposing)—Mr. Irwin I suppose, has prudential reasons for not answering such a question. To tell all he knew might defeat the ends of justice.

Counsellor Moore, (interrupting—How's that. Do—

Counsellor Johnston (continuing)—Why he is an officer.

Counsellor Moore—That don't make any difference. He—

Mr. Moore's flow of eloquence was here interrupted by the appearance of a new actor in the scene—Counsellor Moreland—who rose, somewhere in the back ground, and remarked in his sonorous way, "If your Honor, please, Mr. Irwin has prudential rea—"

Counsellor Moore—What have you got to do with it.

Counsellor Moreland, (with emphasis),—A great deal, sir. I am here as Mr. Irwin's counsel, and—

Counsellor Moore—Why he's not on trial.

The Mayor, (corroboratively)—That's correct. Mr. Irwin is a witness not a defendant.

Counsellor Moreland (unabashed)—Perfectly right sir, per-fect-ly right. But, sir, I am his legal adviser, and am here for that purpose. He is a police officer, and, as such, cannot be compelled to answer irrelevant questions, not bearing on the direct issue before you, that might prejudice the business he has in hand. He can refuse to tell "all he knows" of the robbery, and I have so advised him to do, but he can and will tell all about this gentleman Shaw's connection with the affair. I appeal, sir, to Your Honor, to protect him.

Counsellor Moore (astounded)—A more preposterous thing I never heard in my life; that this man because he is a police officer, can refuse to answer questions before a proper tribunal; that he is to be the judge of what is a legal question; that he can tell just what he thinks proper, and keep back the rest. It's monstrous sir. Why no lawyer that values his reputation worth a straw would make such a proposition; and I say this man shall answer, or, if he don't, I'll ask Your Honor to commit him for contempt. (Sensation among the spectators.)

Counsellor Johnston—I wish to make a statement that—

Counsellor Moore—I object, I ask the Mayor to decide this question.—

Counsellor Johnston—Before he decides I—

Counsellor Moore—No sir, we don't want any more talk unless it's on the direct question.

Counsellor Moore, (indignant)—I guess I know what I'm doing, and don't want to be dictated to by you. I say—

Counsellor Moore—Do you object to the competency of this witness?

Counsellor Johnston—No, sir, but—

Counsellor Moore—That's all, then. I'll object to your talk. I appeal to the Mayor.—

The legal gentlemen then simultaneously arose, each striving to claim His Honor's undivided attention, and expressing his desires by vociferous appeals for his rights, accompanied by lively gesticulations. The Magistrate finally remarked to Mr. Johnston. "I guess I'll have to decide against you," and it was like oil upon the troubled waters. Both gentlemen sat down and became legally pacific.

Counsellor Johnston was then allowed to proceed and remarked that he objected to the question put to the witness because it was far broader than the circumstances of the case required. If proof was desired of the robbery that could be had from the Observatory people or from other parties. The question was now in relation to Mr. Shaw receiving the Observatory Glass.

The Mayor—I'll be compelled to rule against you. I think the question is a proper one. We want to get all the facts.

Counsellor Johnston—It is very important to my client that the thief in this case be brought to justice. Now if the witness tells all he knows, that end might be defeated; therefore I'm compelled to ask that this case be arrested here.

Counsellor Moore—You waive a hearing and give bail for court.

Counsellor Johnston—Exactly.

The Mayor—I supposed it would come to that.

A general smile of an audible character went round the circle, at this sudden ending, and in a few minutes the office was cleared. The bail was fixed at $2000, His Honor cheerfully remarking to the defendant that he might remain until the proper security was given. He was "remaining" at last accounts, but friends were at work to secure bail.

THE COURTS.

Yesterday's Proceedings.

SUPREME COURT—FULL BENCH.

J. A. Muellor, of Pittsburgh, on motion of S. H. Geyer, Esq., Robinson F. Downy, of Greene county, on motion of A. E. Willson, Esq., and John J. Wickham, of Beaver county, on motion of Frank Willson, Esq., were duly admitted and qualified to practice in this court.

Kelly vs. the Commonwealth; Greene county. Argued by Downey for plaintiff in error, and by Geyer contra.

Horner vs. Smith; Greene county. Submitted by Wylie for plaintiff in error. No appearance contra.

Haze et. all's appeal; Greene county. Argued by Black for plaintiff in error, and by Downey contra.

Peterson vs. Crain; Greene county. Argued by Downey for plaintiff in error.

King, et al. vs. Brooks; Fayette. Argued by Howell for plaintiff in error, and by Downer contra.

Hutchman's Executors' appeal; Lawrence county. Submitted by Gilleland for appellants, and McCombs contra.

Campbell vs. Laughlin, et al., Fayette. Alternative mandamus to Prothonotary McDonald to restore certain notes of evidence to the record. Return read and argued. Peremptory mandamus refused, at costs of complainants. Cause then argued by Searight for plaintiff in error. Playford, contra, not heard, and therefore judgment affirmed Per Curiam.

Murray's Executors vs. Sharp, Beaver, and same vs. Imbre. Argued together by Frank Willson for the plaintiff in error, and by Wickham contra.

Dickerson vs. Scott, Washington. Crumrine and Patterson for plaintiff in error, and Wilson contra.

Buchanan's appeal, Washington. Argued by McClung for appellants.

COMMON PLEAS—JUDGE STOWE.

The case of Mary McGinnis vs. John Maginnis, which has occupied the attention of this Court for several days still holds on. The direct testimony for both sides has concluded, and some time taken up with rebutting evidence which had not been concluded when Court adjourned.

Grain, Flour, Lime, &c.

Elsewhere we have alluded to the extensive business done by Laing & McKallip in anthracite coal. Large as this part of their business is, it is by no means all, nor yet the chief part of their large mercantile business. Those who visit their extensive warehouses, No. 347, 411 and 413 on Liberty street, will find that they are not less prepared to supply their friends with any quantity of Flour, Grain and Feed, or with the best qualities of Louisville and Rosendale Hydraulic Cement or Perrysburg White Lime. These are commodities that are wanted for daily consumption by a great many people, and those who try Laing & McKallip will find them as accommodating and fair dealing as they are enterprising in providing for all wants in their lines of trade. Give them a trial.

BREVITIES

....This afternoon Allegheny Councils will inspect the Troy Hill road.

....Oxen found it difficult to navigate yesterday morning on account of the slippery streets.

....That coming prize fight is for $1,000 a-side. No "chin music" is the motto of the valiant buffers.

....On the 6th of next month Charlotte Cushman, one of America's greatest actresses, will read at Library Hall.

....At a meeting of the Street Committee of Allegheny Councils the contract for the construction of the Marilla alley sewer was awarded to Wm. T. Dunn for $2,813, and for the main sewer on Lane alley to Chas. Faulkner for $9,650.

....Yesterday Mr. John Peat, owner of a tract of land near Dravonsburgh, filed an application in the Court of Common Pleas for the appointment of viewers to assess damages caused by the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Railroad in running their tracks through his property. The Court appointed November 30th as the day for hearing the case.

....This afternoon between two and four o'clock Mr. Herolds, proprietor and patentee of a Patent Fire Escape, will exhibit the benefits of his invention at the Monongahela House. The patent consists of a rope, or wire ladder, and Mr. H., who is a large man, proposes to let himself down from the top story of the house by means of the apparatus, in order to prove its efficiency.

....The Cleveland Councils have passed an ordinance, without a dissenting vote, annexing seven square miles additional territory to that city. The territory annexed includes a small tract lying between the present city limits and Glenville, the entrance to Lake View Cemetery, and a portion of territory adjoining the Eleventh, Twelfth, and Fifteenth wards, sufficient to straighten the city boundary lines.

....On Tuesday evening the streets were made very slippery by the snow, and walking, in some places, was a very difficult art. About half past nine o'clock Herman Sliden, a resident of Mount Washington (Thirty-second ward), was returning to his home when he slipped and fell on the ground. He fell with such violence as to break his left leg, just above the ankle. Dr. McCormick was called and reduced the fracture.

....Henry Taylor was arrested in Allegheny on Tuesday night, on a charge of larceny by bailee, the information having been made six months ago, before Mayor Callow. The information was made by his brother, who had employed the defendant to collect for him, and alleges that Henry appropriated the money to his own use. Young Taylor was placed in the lockup, and shortly afterwards the Captain found him digging at the wall of the cell with his knife. The prisoner was removed to another cell.

....Yesterday morning two coats were stolen from a clothes cleaning establishment at No. 7 Seventh street. Detectives Scott and Long proceeded to investigate the matter and found that a man had brought two coats to George Cohen's store, on Liberty street, and offered them for pawn. Cohen refused to take them, and the man pawned them at a shop on Sixth avenue. Presently he returned with a companion who redeemed the coat, and while attending to this matter the original thief stole an overcoat from the shop. A man named Thomas Powers, who was wearing the stolen overcoat was arrested at the "Home" on Duquesne Way yesterday, and was locked up for a hearing.

POLICE PARAGRAPHS.

Brief Mention of Criminalities.

MAYOR BLACKMORE disposed of thirty-one common cases at the hearing yesterday morning.

MARGARET NICHOLS made an information before the Mayor last evening against John Weaver, charging him with disorderly conduct in using vile and abusive language. A warrant was issued.

ANN PATTON made an information yesterday before Mayor Callow, of Allegheny, charging her husband, James Patton, with surety of the peace. His wife will not be troubled with him for a period of one calendar month.

AS THE Mayor was about to fine Wm. Shane, slightly, for drunkenness, at the hearing yesterday morning, Schane commenced to curse and used very abusive language towards His Honor. For ninety days William will languish at Claremont.

WM. W. ANDERSON made an information yesterday before Alderman Baillie, of Allegheny, charging John Snodgrass, a school teacher, with having severely abused his son who was one of defendant's scholars. A warrant was issued.

WILLIAM GRAHAM walked into the Allegheny lock-up yesterday and very abruptly proceeded to abuse the Captain, and behaved in a very disorderly and ungentlemanly manner. It cost him just twenty-five dollars and the expense of the trial.

BENJAMIN POWERS is an affectionate and loving husband, but occasionally his passion is expressed in a manner too emphatic to be pleasant. So Mrs. P. thought, and when she stated her convictions to Mayor Callow Mr. Powers was fined $25.

MAYOR CALLOW had five cases at the hearing yesterday morning. Wm. Graham and Benjamin Powers, for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, in default of the payment of a fine of twenty-five dollars and costs, were sent to the Work House for thirty days.

MATTHEW STEEL is most happily named, if the information of A. B. Irwin is to be believed. The latter alleges that he was calmly enjoying a smoke with his meerschaum pipe in a saloon, when the defendant snatched it out of his mouth. The pipe was valued at twenty dollars. A warrant was issued.

JAMES J. MCDONALD, an Allegheny constable, made an information charging Catharine McGannon with tearing down a notice of a constable's sale, and otherwise interfering with him in the discharge of his duty. Alderman McMasters had the defendant arrested on a charge of malicious mischief, and she gave bail for a hearing.

BEFORE Alderman McMasters B. Winkins made an information against W. Meyer, whom he charged with assault and battery and surety of the peace. The parties reside at Oakland, and the prosecutor alleges that the defendant knocked him down, kicked him and threatened to take his life. The defendant was arrested and gave bail for court.

THE THIEVES CAUGHT.

The Small-pox Hospital Robbery—A Tramp Over the Hills—Following up a Trail—The Arrest of the Men.

The parties who robbed the Allegheny Small-pox Hospital are now in the lockup,—having had but a short enjoyment of their gains. It will be remembered that the hospital was entered a few days ago and the bed clothing and other articles carried off. The fact of the robbery was made known Monday evening, and Chief Clark and Health Officer Hoch went up to Claremont Tuesday afternoon to make an investigation. They discovered that Wm. Penn Herriott, a white man, and "Bones" McFarland (colored) had been discharged from the work-house the day of the robbery. By following up this information the detectives found a clue to the thieves. They had been seen in Sharpsburg, and had sold a shot gun stolen from the hospital to a man near Claremont. Feeling confident that they had a trace of the thieves, one of the contractors at the work house, who knew the suspected parties, agreed to go with the Chief in order to identify them. It was ascertained that "Bones" said he was working in East Liberty, but after crossing the river in a skiff and walking to that place the Chief found that "Bones" lived at Negley's Run. The house was reached about nine o'clock last night, and McFarland, who was in bed, was taken in custody. An overcoat, some blankets, and a number of knives and forks, all of which were identified by Health Officer Hoch, were found in the house. About twelve o'clock the officers and prisoner reached the city, and proceeded at once to the Young Men's Home, where Herriott was found. He had on a coat stolen from the hospital, and other articles were found in his possession. The men were taken over and furnished with lodgings in the Allegheny lock-up.

Last evening they were called up for a hearing, which resulted in their being held for trial in default of bail in the sum of $1,000 each.

IN MEMORIAM.

The High Mass Over the Late Bishop O'Connor—Impressive Services at the Cathedral—An Eloquent Sermon.

Possibly four thousand persons, Protestant's and Catholics, gathered together yesterday in St. Pauls Cathedral to pay a last and farewell homage to the memory of the late and much lamented Rt. Rev. Michael O'Connor, once Bishop of the Catholic diocese of Pittsburgh. The months' mind mass, a peculiarity of the Catholic church was full yesterday, the first months anniversary of the death of the great prelate and pioneer of Catholicism in this section. It was an universally solemn Portifical High Mass and very sorrowful in character, even to those who least understood the grave ceremonies of the occasion. Bishop Domenec was the chief celebrant, with Very Rev. Father Hickey as Master of Ceremonies. Some eighty clergy and theological students of the diocese were present upon the alter, together with Bishop Wood of Philadelphia, Bishop O'Hara of Scranton, Bishop Mullen of Erie, Abbe Wimmer of Westmoreland, Vicar Garland of Pittsburgh, Rev. Dr. Jas. O'Connor, (brother of the deceased bishop) of Philadelphia, and many other distinguished Catholic priests. The altar was appropriately draped in sombre mourning, and bore an imitative catafalque crowned with bishopric parapharnalia indicating the great grief of the congregation over the loss of so good a spiritual father as was Bishop O'Connor. An eloquent panegyric was pronounced on the deceased by the Rt. Rev. Bishop O'Hara, of Scranton, who was first to acquaint the deceased with his appointment as Bishop of this Catholic diocese. The service was beautiful and affecting, moving many to tears. The choir did especially well on the occasion and rendered the church music allotted for such occasions with good taste and mournful effect.

NOT WISELY BUT LONG.

A Love that Didn't Run Smooth, but Couldn't be Quenched—Ten Years of Trials and Tribulations, and a Happy Marriage.

"There arrived in this city some days since," says the Cleveland Leader of yesterday, "from a small town in Pennsylvania, a young man of rather prepossessing appearance, whose haggard and care-worn countenance and anxious inquiries attracted the attention of all who came in contact with him. Some of the authorities became interested in his case, and in answer to their interrogatories he told his story briefly as follows:

Some ten years ago, when but a boy in his teens, he had lived with his parents in a rural Pennsylvania home. On an adjoining farm lived a neighbor who was possessed of a daughter, a pretty, vivacious little girl, the admiration and pride of the village. The lad was her senior by two or three years, and, as might have been expected, became enamored of the pretty lass. She reciprocated his sentiments, and the two became devotedly attached. Summer and winter, in season and out of season, the twain were together. In the winter season he accompanied her to paring-bees and singing schools; in the springtime they went fishing together and dug sassafras, and as the long summer twilights approached they swung on their father's gate until the old gentleman's patience and the hinges were both strained almost beyond endurance. All went happy as a marriage bell, or perhaps it wouldn't be putting it too strong to say a whole Troy bell foundry. But it was too happy to always last, and the sad, sad end came. "Alle guten dinge sind drei"—all good things are three"—is an old and well authenticated German proverb, which the experience of the young man sadly fails to verify; for the advent of the third party upon the scene well nigh brought ruin to all three. It is the old story. A young man of handsome appearance, well versed in the way of the world and utterly devoid of honor, made the acquaintance of the innocent girl. The old lover was discarded for the more stylish looking stranger, and the poor thing fell a victim to the seducer's wiles. Betrayed and ruined, she fled from home and entered upon a life of shame. So well did she conceal all traces of her whereabouts that all searches by her first, and, only true love, were fruitless. He gave up almost in despair, but the spark of hope was still kept alive in his breast by the intensity of his love, and he waited patiently through long years, true to the memory of the loved and lost.

The girl went on from one degree of shame to another, until all traces of her former beauty were obliterated, and she sank to the lowest depths. For a number of years she has resided in various houses of prostitution in this city, latterly being an inmate of a low den on Union street. Here her old lover got clue to her whereabouts, and without a moment's delay he hastened to the city. When his case was made known, he was aided in his search by friends, and the girl was soon found. She had become so hardened in vice that she manifested very little emotion when she came face to face with her old lover. He, poor fellow, was too overjoyed to heed or care for her present condition, and seemed to think he had regained all he had lost. The parties were speedily reconciled, and the girl was entirely willing to abandon her dissolute life for all honorable marriage. He was only too glad to forgive and forget. The couple spent a happy day in the city Monday and left for Elyria, where the nuptials were celebrated yesterday. Such was the denouement of one of the most remarkable cases of genuine true love on record, and those who preach of woman's constancy and devotion, will have to search long before finding an example to equal that displayed by the poor Pennsylvania lover. May his future be as happy as his past has been unfortunate."

Amusements.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—The trials, dangers and triumphs of "Maurice," the hero in the thrilling play of the "Red Pocket Book," were witnessed by a large audience on last evening, and the manifestations of delight were quite numerous from the apparently well pleased audience. The highly dramatic situations of the play, aside from the powerful mechanical effects, were well worked up by the entire cast, and elicited numerous rounds of applause. The comedy element introduced was made the most of by Mr. Irving, as "Marcel," and his playfulness with the intelligent monkey of the desert, was quite amusing and ludicrous. The "Red Pocket Book," will be again presented this evening.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—M'lle Morlacchi appeared before a very good audience last night, and gave an excellent rendition of Cooper's heroine in his well-known romance of the "Wept of Wish-Ton-Wish, or the Last of the Mohicans." Morlacchi's interpretation of returning consciousness in the recognition of her father was pathetic, and earned for her an enthusiastic call before the curtain. Her Pas Suel received the usual recognition her talents as a danseuse receives. The farce of "Dodging for a Wife" gave an opportunity to Mr. Hampton to set the auditors in good humor, as did his Skemp to continue in the mood. Mr. Halpine's Conachet was effective. Morlacchi's plain pronunciation of the English language is astonishing for one not to the manor born, and her elocution is excellent. This lady speaks French, Italian, Spanish, Portuguese, and all the dialects of Italy fluently, which, added to her perfect English, stamps her as a superior linguist. To-night the "Wept" for the last, and Friday evening for her benefit will be produced a new dramatization of Victor Hugo's "Esmeralda, or the Hunchback of Notre Dame," in which she will sustain the character of the "Gipsey Girl of Paris." Saturday a family matinee.

THE LECTURE COURSE.—The sale of the especially reserved seats in Library Hall for the coming course of lectures was quite a success, yesterday, all offered being readily taken at the stipulated prices. We do not like the system introduced of selling the good seats in advance for the whole season, but it remains with patrons to first find fault.

THE AMERICAN VARIETIES THEATRE on Fifth avenue, old Opera House," was crowded to its fullest capacity last night. The attractions were many and great. The performances were decidedly good and a more delighted audience we never saw. To-night a most excellent bill is offered.

TRIMBLE'S VARIETIES.—This staunch old place of amusement continues to draw large audiences, and keeps up well and faithfully its reputation for affording grand entertainments of diversified character. A galaxy of stars hardly equalled on the American stage nightly appear on the stage to contribute to the common enjoyment of those who spend their evenings at the Varieties on Penn avenue.

AT ST. BRIDGET'S CHURCH, Eleventh ward, a grand vocal and instrumental concert will be held to-morrow evening, inaugurating an elegant new pipe organ just purchased by the congregation. A rare musical treat may be safely anticipated.

LIBRARY HALL.—The sale of seats for the Caroline Richings Bernard concert on Saturday evening next favorably progresses at Kiebers' music store, and the occasion promises to be one of great success. The box sheets still remain open.

Cupid's Ambuscades.

The sly archer, Love, shoots his arrows from many coigns of vantage, but it is doubtful if he delivers his heart-taking shafts from any ambush with more effect than when he arms them from the braids and folds and ringlets of a superb head of hair. Ladies who have not been favored by Nature with this crowning charm of womanhood, can readily and certainly increase the volume of their hair and impart to it silken lustre by using LYON'S KATHAIRON as a daily dressing; while those whom Providence has blessed with a superabundance of this "Glory," of the sex, can preserve it, undiminished in quantity and undiminished in beauty to the last period of life. There is a germinating principle in the KATHAIRON which literally compels the hair to grow. It exterpates scurf, dandruff, and all the exfoliations and excresences of the scalp which interfere with the rapid and healthy development of the fibres. TTHS:8

Real Estate and Insurance.

Among the many enterprising men in the Real Estate and Insurance business there is one, Mr. W. P. Price, of Allegheny, who is as wide awake and up to the times as any other man in the two cities. If you have any real estate you want sold, see Price, and if he don't sell it, you can safely say no one wants to buy it. Same with insurance; if you want to insure, let him know, and he will give you the figures of all the best companies in the two cities. PROCLAMATION.

PENNSYLVANIA, SS:

In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, JOHN W. GEARY, Governor of the said Commonwealth.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, In and by an act of the General Assembly, entitled "An act relating to the elections of this Commonwealth," approved the second day of July, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and thirty-nine, it is made the duty of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, on receiving the returns of the election of Electors of President and Vice President of the United States, to lay them before the Governor, who shall enumerate and ascertain the number of votes given for each person voted for, and shall thereupon declare by proclamation the names of the persons duly elected:

And Whereas, It appears from the returns so laid before me by the Secretary of the Commonwealth, of the election held on Tuesday, the fifth day of November, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, that Adolph E. Borie, John M. Thompson, William D. Forten, Joseph A. Bonham, Marcus A. Davis, George Morrison Coates, Henry Bumm, Theodore M. Wilson, John M. Broomall, Francis Shroder, Mark H. Richards, Edward H. Green, David S. Shoemaker, Daniel R. Miller, Leander M. Morton, Theodore Strong, John Passmore, William J. Colegrove, Jesse Merrill, Henry Oriady, Robert Bell, Joseph M. Thompson, Isaac Frazer, George W. Andrews, Henry Lloyd, John J. Gillespie, James Patterson, John W. Wallace and Charles C. Boyd received the greatest number of votes of the persons voted for as Electors of President and Vice President of the United States:

Now, therefore, I, John W. Geary, Governor as aforesaid, in obedience to the requirements of the aforesaid Act of the General Assembly, do hereby issue this my Proclamation, publishing and declaring that the said Adolph E. Borie, John M. Thompson, William D. Forten, Joseph A. Bonham, Marcus A. Davis, George Morrison Coates, Henry Bumm, Theodore M. Wilson, John M. Broomall, Francis Shroder, Mark H. Richards, Edward H. Green, David Shoemaker, Daniel R. Miller, Leander M. Morton, Theodore Strong, John Passmore, William J. Colegrove, Jesse Merrill, Henry Oriady, Robert Bell, Joseph M. Thompson, Isaac Frazer, George W. Andrews, Henry Lloyd, John J. Gillespie, James Patterson, John W. Wallace and Charles C. Boyd are the persons duly elected Electors of President and Vice President of the United States, to serve at the election in that behalf to be held at the seat of Government of this State (being the city of Harrisburg, in the county of Dauphin), on the first Wednesday of December next, being the fourth day of said month, agreeably to the said act of the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, and the Constitution and laws of the United States.

Given under my hand and the great seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this fifteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-seventh.

JOHN W. GEARY.

By the Governor:
F. JORDAN, Secretary of the Commonwealth.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

In the name and by the authority of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, John W. Geary, Governor.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION.

Believing in the Lord our covenant God, in whom our fathers trusted, and in His controlling Providence over the affairs of men and nations, a public acknowledgement of His goodness, and of our constant dependence upon Him, is eminently becoming an enlightened and civilized people:

Now, therefore, impressed with these sentiments, in pursuance of a revered custom, and in conformity with the Proclamation of Ulysses S. Grant, President of the United States, recommending that

THURSDAY, THE 28TH DAY OF NOVEMBER NEXT BE SET APART AS A DAY OF PRAISE, PRAYER AND THANKSGIVING,

I John W. Geary, Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, do most respectfully request the citizens of this State to observe that day as such, with all due respect and solemnity.

Let thanks be given to Almighty God that He has bestowed upon us all the common blessings of life, given us health, and relieved us from pestilence; that labor is abundantly rewarded; that we have no dread of impending famine, or fear of industrial or commercial distress; that the arts, sciences, general education, and the sentiments of peace and good will are steadily advancing. Let us be especially thankful for the great privileges of American citizenship; for the untrammeled expression of opinion; that our political rights still remain safe under beneficent laws, and in the hands of an order loving people, and that "equal and exact justice" is vouchsafed to all. For these and other civil, social and religious blessings we enjoy, let us yield the sincere tribute of grateful hearts, and humbly beseech their continuance.

Given under my Hand and the Great Seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two, and of the Commonweath the ninety-seventh.

[SEAL.] JOHN W. GEARY.

By the Governor:
F. JORDAN,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

A Mistake Corrected.

Many persons suppose, because they purchased a sewing machine, that their house is supplied with this very necessary article of furniture. In one sense this is true, but in another very erroneous. A sewing machine, if it be of an inferior kind, is of no account. What ever was more of an annoyance than a help at home—one that is hard to run or is liable to get out of order, or is not fit for work at all times, will be a constant source of vexation and a bill of expense. The best plan is to purchase a first-class machine like the American Buttonhole and Overseaming Machine, of which Mr. James Espy is the agent, No. 176 Liberty street. It will be found all right, and a constant pleasure in the house.

HOW TO USE MERCURY.

Never put mercury into your stomach. The proper place for it is the thermometer or the barometer. There it will inform you of the changes of temperature, or forewarn you of the coming of storms, thus indicating the times and seasons when it is necessary to reinforce the system with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, in order to ward off the ailments which peculiar conditions of the elements produce. When the quicksilver suddenly falls several degrees of Fahrenheit, as it often does at this season, fortify the system against the depressing influence of this sudden abstraction of heat by a dose of the most genial and wholesome of all invigorants. Or if the indicator of your barometer points to stormy, brace up for those damp, driving gales which are sure to search to the very marrow of an untoned organization. Fever and ague, chronic indigestion, violent colics, dysentery, bilious intermittents, rheumatism, and a host of pulmonary complaints, come of such visitations. no18

MERCHANT TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT,
No. 10 SIXTH STREET (old St. Clair)
It may be gratifying to our friends and patrons, as well as the public at large, to know that Mr. C. A. Muhlanbring, an experienced Cutter and Superintendent of the establishment, after an absence of a week, has returned, bringing with him a new and beautiful assortment of SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS chosen from the largest and most fashionable emporiums of New York.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Another Protest.

EDITORS GAZETTE: I am much pleased to see a communication in one of our city papers, under the heading of a "protest," and signed "Patron."

The "protest" is a well timed article in reference to the "proposed action of the Library Lecture Committee, about to be taken, in regard to the sale of additional reserved seats."

Now, as "Patron" very truly says, "It was an express understanding, and so stated by the committee, that when the regular course tickets were sold, they would entitle the holder to a seat in any part of the hall, except those reserved in the parquette, and now, after the tickets are sold, to subject the holders to further limitations, is a breach of good faith and contract." "Patron" has expressed my views so well, that I have but little to add. I do know, moreover, these views are held by a very large number of the holders of tickets (not reserved). If it is the intention of the committee to force us into the additional expense of buying reserved seats, after the choice seats have been taken, (having stated distinctly that none would be sold outside of the parquette) they may find that we have certain rights which it is at once their legal duty and wisest policy to respect.

REGULAR TICKET HOLDER.

A Mistake Corrected.

To the Editors of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

The error of your reporter of the proceedings of the Polytechnic Association, has placed me in a false position, which I trust that you will rectify. In the first place, I made no mention of Messrs. Spencer, McKay & Co., reported yesterday morning in error in your paper, not knowing that such a firm was in existence. I stated that in the stables of Messrs. Spencer & Wilson, four cases of colic occurred during the prevalence of the epizootic in their stable, all of which yielded to treatment. You will please correct the mistake and oblige

AT 10 A. M., AT THE COURT HOUSE.
I shall by virtue of an order of the District Court of this county, offer
AT PUBLIC SALE
That valuable manufacturing property in Allegheny, consisting known as the Anchor Cotton Mills
This property consists of a lot fronting 130 feet on Robinson street, and extending back on Balkam street 240 feet to Lacock street, on which is erected a large five story substantially built brick Cotton Mill, together with engine house, &c., in adjoining building, all in good repair. The machinery consists in part of about 10,000 spindles, (including 4 pairs self-acting mules), 271 looms. The greater portion of the machinery is of improved pattern, all in good order and now in operation. On an adjoining lot, bounded by Balkam, Lacock and Darragh streets, is erected a large fire-proof cotton warehouse, with capacity of over 1,000 bales uncompressed cotton, stable, &c.
As an inducement to parties wishing to purchase, the terms of sale have been made very liberal. One-fourth of the purchase money to be paid as follows: $10,000 cash, and the rest in equal payments at 12, 18 and 24 months with interest, for which approved endorsed notes shall be given, and the remaining three-fourths of the purchase money are to be paid in 3 equal annual installments, the first to be paid in three years from the date of sale, with interest, and to be secured by bond and mortgage on the premises. Possession given in 30 days from sale. Insurance after sale to be kept up by the purchaser for the benefit of the present owners.
For further particulars address or call at the office on the premises.
JOHN B. JACKSON, Commissioner.
